A word from your pastor . . .

In our worship Sunday we affirmed the ministry of Josh Fulkerson as we recognized his 5th anniversary on our staff here. I am grateful to serve with a man who loves this church so deeply, and brings to his work a big heart, a positive spirit, creativity, flexibility, and so many gifts and talents. We are so blessed to have Josh, Haley, Eli and Isaac in our church family, and we know you pray for them as they continue to serve so faithfully.

Our worship Sunday also focused on the privilege and need we have to tell our story—the story of how we have seen Jesus work in our lives and in the lives of others. I challenged myself and all of us to tell someone our story—and I hope you have been sensitive to those opportunities in your life. This divided and confused world desperately needs to hear why we have hope—and they will hear that when they hear our story.

As we continue to turn our hearts “outside the walls”, we need to pray for Gay Cook as she travels on mission to Haiti this month; for our developing partnership with the PCM ministries in Uganda and how we can best serve them; for our schools and related activities in which Kari, Josh, and so many of our people are investing their time and energy; and for all the ways each day God brings people into each of our lives so we may be a blessing to them.

John

DEACON NOMINATIONS

At the recommendation of the deacons, last year our church modified the deacon election process. These changes are intended to enlarge the size of the deacon body so that the needs of our congregation can be better addressed, and to encourage a new generation of leadership to exercise their gifts in service. We are grateful that these men have a heart for service and a desire to nurture the ministry of others. Nomination ballots will be available beginning this Sunday; nominations will be received October 15th through the 29th. We trust that you will allow scripture and prayer to guide your consideration of those whom you believe God can use in this ministry. If you are nominated, we pray that you will be sensitive to God’s call in your life and prayerfully consider if He is leading you to join these who unselfishly serve the Lord and this congregation. We know we are all unworthy, but we also believe in a God who uses unworthy and imperfect people for His glory and the good of His people.
