WORLD MISSIONS
are you ready

.....

Bluff Creek Christian Church
“Therefore, go and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit.”

NOTES:

A NOTE FROM PASTOR ERIC

When Jesus gave his command to “go into all the world” in the great commission of Matthew 28:18, he added a new dimension to the two greatest commandments. No longer were we to just love God and love others who were our neighbors. We were called to love others to God across the entire world. From the neighbor in Greenwood to the stranger in Greenland; from the neighbor in Bargarville to the stranger in Brazil; from the neighbor in Franklin to the stranger in France; from the neighbor in Mooresville to the stranger in Mozambique... we are to “GO!” and Love them to God.

Through the ministry of missions in our church we have that very opportunity. Some are called and can “GO!” physically, but not everyone can. However, we can all “GO!” prayerfully. Not everyone can go physically, but everyone can “GO!” by loving and financially supporting those who can.

This booklet allows you to provide those three areas of “Going,” through your prayers, love and finances in a deeper way, by knowing more about those called to physically “GO” into full-time service through the missions BCCC supports.

With the call of Christ clear – ‘Love God, Love Others, Love Others to God’ – I encourage you to use this booklet as a tool to do just that in the lives and ministries of those in the following pages.

So get your heart and “GO!”

Eric Allen

The school for kindergarten through 13th grade will continue as before. The medical and food programs will also continue. However the Board of Directors has voted to close the college and in its place expand the educational programs. This expansion will provide training for various trades, including masonry, electrical and construction as well as teaching skills necessary in developing and maintaining various agricultural programs. Mountain Mission School ministers to children of poverty, neglect or abuse helping them to find hope and opportunity. Sam Hurley, the founder of the school, was an orphan in Appalachia. It is estimated that over 20,000 needy children have been sheltered and educated at Mountain Mission School since its founding in 1921. MMS has 230 resident students ages 18 months to 20 years. A private school consisting of grades pre-k through twelve operates on the campus. In recent years, more than 90 percent of the schools graduates have enrolled in colleges. The campus consists of seven separate residences, Toddler Hall, an educational building, vocational and fine arts building, chapel and an administration building. Mountain Mission School operates totally from private donations from individuals, churches and businesses. It receives no government funds of any kind.

In 1974, Dishington Sohkhlet began a mission to train men and women to preach the gospel and start new churches in Northeast India. Billy, Dishington's son, and Dishington's widow, Raphina, have continued the work since his death. This year ten students graduated from the Bible Institute and returned to their homes to preach. There are also ministers who have graduated from South India Bible College, but there is a need for more workers. One preacher is working with 15 churches. The mission also has a Christian school for the children in the area and a medical ministry. Malaria and meningitis are common because of the monsoon season and the hot climate. The best prevention is clean water and mosquito nets. The mission is helping to provide water wells for the villages.

This training ministry is important to church leaders living in Eastern Europe and Central Asia because there are very few Bible colleges or opportunities for taking ministry courses. This year nine sessions are being held at the Haus from March through early November. Each session offers three graduate-level classes. More than 765 European Christians study at Haus Edelweiss each year. In 1991, Dr. Tony Twist, second president of TCM International, Inc., established the 'Institute for Biblical Studies' (now TCM International Institute). TCM is designed to provide graduate-level study for pastors and church leaders. All of the required classes are taught at Haus Edelweiss or at 12 TCM teaching sites in 11 countries.

NOTES:

According to LaTheda Noonan, Director of the pantry, people who already are living with a narrow margin for error can easily go over the poverty line if unemployment or health issues hit unexpectedly. Who really looks in the mirror in the morning and thinks, "Today I'm going to lose my job and have to go to the food pantry?" While donations are down about 50%, the number of people asking for help is up at least 10% this year. The first eight months of 2009 the pantry served 18,404 people. For the same period in 2010, the total was 20,242.
