

The Spiritual Realm

I just read a book by a leading scientist who explained to us non-scientists that in order to understand our existence, we have to accept the fact that there is a lot of stuff that exists beyond the range of our five senses.

His point is that without electron microscopes, spectrometers and the like, we just couldn't comprehend reality. Again, because it transcends our physical senses.

Well, I am no scientist, but I've been saying that for years. But instead of the unseen scientific realms, I am speaking of the spiritual realm.

What he said was true—there are realities in the natural world we cannot see, smell, hear, touch or taste. But it's even more true when God is factored in.

Maybe along with all the Dark Matter and String Theories we need to remember that there is an awesome God standing by—ready to help those of us in need.

This is Pastor Stephen Chitty. Remember, Life Matters, and so do you.
