

I Believe!

“I believe! I really do!” The first time I said that it was about Santa. I was at an age when doubt about the jolly old man began to set in and some of my friends were skeptical. Taking no chances, I loudly proclaimed, in case he was listening, “I believe.”

Well I still believe—though my belief in Christmas is centered on Christ. I know some of our traditions are just left over from paganism. But there is a truth to Christmas if we can get past the commercialism and the cynicism that changes your life forever.

It is intimidating though. True faith always is. When Paul established the church in Thessalonica; the complaint was that “these people who have turned the world upside down have now come into our town.”

The true Christmas story does turn the world upside down—so join us this Christmas in celebration at Christian Life Church. Remember, Life Matters, and so do you!
