

Life Notes Sharing Your Faith with Pastor Justin

Have you noticed everywhere you look on the internet, on social media, and yes, even at church there is a “share tab” or “share button” to click on? Why are we so interested in sharing every detail of our lives? Why do we want to see what others are sharing about their experiences, disappointments and successes? Sharing is a part of who God created us to be! That is why we freely talk about family events, music we listen to, restaurants we dine at, and the food we eat. We want to be noticed and feel important. There is, however, one thing we are missing in the realm of sharing, and that is an opportunity to let others know about the Jesus we love and the God we serve. For some reason, it's just not a natural conversation, but it very well may be the most important information we could ever SHARE!

Remember one of our Core Values is:

Relational Evangelism. We believe that all Christ-followers have the responsibility of intentionally sharing the Gospel within their network of relationships.

These are the topics we will be covering:

1. What Sharing Your Faith Is NOT!
2. What Is Sharing Your Faith?
3. Elements of Sharing Your Faith
4. Styles of Sharing Your Faith Part 1
5. Styles of Sharing Your Faith Part 2
6. Starting Spiritual Conversations
7. Telling Your Story
8. Communicating God's Heart
9. Relevant and Helpful Illustrations
10. Living Life in 3-D
11. Crossing the Line of Faith
12. Helping New Believers

My hope is that you will join me for the next 12 weeks as we journey through the exhilaration, pitfalls, and practical lessons of living a lifestyle of sharing your faith.
