STUDENT LEADERSHIP TEAM RETREAT, by CSC President, Jordan Andershock

From August 16-17, the CSC's Student Leadership Team attended a retreat hosted at Bill and Joyce Troxler's house. The gathering kicked off with a few team-building exercises such as "the Human Knot." An hour or so in, however, and we hit the ground running. Planning, coordinating, and organizing was the name of the game for roughly seven hours on the first day. "Forms and events and axioms, oh my!" we cried while plunging into the dark abyss. The only hope of maintaining our sanity rested in Mrs. Troxler's delicious home cooked meals and an abundance of fresh cookies. The day was ended with a campfire, s'mores, and singing hymns before retiring for the night.

Day two ran from 8am to 8pm. Tyler Ellis did a superb job of keeping the team focused and productive for those 12 hours. We talked about weekly programs and Thursday night Encounter, and we continued examining each team member's ministry in depth. The team accomplished a lot in two days.

The fall schedule is quickly filling up, and I am excited to see the cool stuff we have planned for later in the year.

Thank you to the Troxler's for opening your home to us. Your generosity and love really made the retreat special for the whole team. As always, Go Vols!
