

We know you have a hard decision to make, and as you read this brief profile of us we are hopeful you will come away with a clear picture of whom we are and why we are pursuing adoption to grow our family.

I'm Emily and I am adopted. I was placed in a wonderful loving home at birth, and I have two older brothers and one younger brother who were also adopted. I always felt that just because my brothers and I had different birth parents, God had a plan, and placed us where we were meant to be together as a family. This is how I feel about us adopting a new baby. God has a plan for our family unity!!!!

I have a very close and loving relationship with both of my birthparents. We talk often on the phone and a couple times a year we get together with my birthmother and extended family, and also we get together with my birthfather and extended family. I will have to say that I do feel blessed having them in my life.

My husband Wayne and I have been married for 9 years and we have a five-year-old son Mason. Mason has been a pure blessing to us, because I was informed for years, that having a child was not possible for me. Since Mason was born, we have tried to have another child, but I feel that our son is our little miracle baby, and we are so looking forward to being able to adopt, to make your child our second miracle baby.

I have the opportunity where I am able to work part time as a Dental Hygienist. This has given me the chance where I am able to spend more time with Mason and would be able to spend more time with a new little bundle of joy. I love to cook, bike, scuba dive, take family vacations, and in general, I love to be adventurous. There is so much to see and experience in this world.

I am Wayne, I am in construction and I also own my own business. I was raised in a large family with 5 other siblings. I was the second to oldest. I had a wonderful upbringing, and with a large family, I learned, compassion, patience, (especially when needing to get into the bathroom and patiently waiting for my sisters to be done with it) and all around love for one another. Music was also a big part of our life. I also have two adult boys who would love to be big, big brothers.

We would love nothing more than to have another child, and Mason would love to be a big brother. We hope you will consider us as a natural fit for your child as you make this important decision for what is best for you and for your baby. We are excited to be parents again, and would give the baby so much love, support, and a wonderful life.

With Love, Emily, Wayne and Mason
