(Grandparent's Day Celebration)

There has been some crazy cold temperatures this week. Please remember we go outside if the temperature and wind chill are above 20 degrees. Make sure you dress your child appropriately for going outside as that is our top choice. Playing outside helps them learn better when they come back inside.

Today is the last day of November. The Christmas Program will be here before you know it! Here are a few notes about the upcoming Christmas Program. If your child is in the cast, you should already know what they need to wear. (Let me know if you have questions)

If your child is a non-cast member (K-4th grade) they should wear some form of red, green, and/or white casual clothes for both performances (keeping in mind the school dress code, of course).

There is no need to dress all fancy, since the students will be moving and dancing throughout the program. Please do not go out and buy a brand new outfit for this. Use what you have or let us know if you are in need of something and one of our families may have it for you to borrow. We also would like to remind you that the students are free to go home at the conclusion of the Wednesday afternoon performance. It will take most of the afternoon and there will be no classroom time afterwards. Please make sure your child's teacher is aware that you are taking them and leaving. If your child needs to stay until aftercare, they are welcome to do that.

A Penny for Your Thoughts:

I had a moment recently (well several moments) when I noticed once again how much our staff loves your kiddos. Here are a few examples that I saw.

Mrs. Figert was enthusiastically directing the 5th graders preparing them for chapel and what a great chapel is was!

Mrs. Long 1.0 taking care of a sick child in morning care. Sick children happen during the day but usually not in morning care.

Ms. Cash talking to me about going to a nursing home after Christmas break because January is such a long month for the people there. How thoughtful and she is right!

Mrs. Long 2.0 was busy at the copying machine getting ready for special Christmas crafts and activities for aftercare.

Mrs. Post willingly volunteered to go to a required workshop at the very last minute.

The teachers and their hearts when I hear their prayer requests early in the morning before school starts. They so want your children to be successful in all areas of their lives.

During the very busy month of December, may we live in the single moments as we see love shown to us and to others. Let's be observant and see God at work all around us.

Love you! -Mrs. Adams
