

5th Grade World Changers

What We've Been Learning

We finished our study on bridges in science. After chapel week, we will follow up with STEM bridge building projects in the classroom. In Bridge to Terabithia, the students read about the death of one of the main characters. We are going to explore the topic of grief this coming week, which can be a pretty hefty topic. You might check to see if your child has any questions. We want them to hear about it from a biblical perspective. The kids will also start projects on a selected state. Finally, we spent time writing and perfecting our imaginary land pieces.

Classroom Highlights

We are going to start memorizing the states and capitals this week. All students have a packet in their MOOSE books that they can keep at home to study. We will do 10 each week. Tests will be on Thursdays. We will practice in class, but some assistance may be needed at home. The final test will be before Spring Break. There are resources available here:

There will be a math test coming up February 4th over chapter 13 (area, perimeter, volume). The Reading Olympics will begin February 1st. Information will be coming home about that.
