Showing Our Colors

I am convinced that at least during this time of the year we live in the most beautiful place on earth. The colors of the Fall season overwhelm our land. The deep reds of the Sugar Maples, the bright yellows of the Aspen and Oak, the white bark of the Birch, the deep green of the Evergreens, and the blue skies of Autumn are so vivid. I find myself needing to pay close attention as I drive on some of our country roads – I’m easily distracted by the beauty. God has given us a magnificent place to live.

Colors are also on display every weekend as people gather in football stadiums all across North America to watch their favorite teams play. As you look across the stadium (in person or on TV) you see the colors of the teams proudly displayed on sweatshirts, jackets and hats as people cheer their team on to victory. For me it’s the blue and white of the UCONN Huskies. They may not be a ranked team, and so far they have lost more than they have won, but they are Connecticut’s team . . . and I proudly wear their colors every other Saturday in section 218 at Rentschler Field. Go UCONN!

You may have noticed some people on Sundays come to Covenant wearing the colors of their favorite teams: the Jets, the Giants, the Patriots, the Redskins, the Cowboys . . . and rarely, but on occasion the Bears. It’s fun to watch and the bantering is a delight.

Colors are also on display in our cities and on our streets. The colors of street and motorcycle gangs are worn proudly by its members to declare their allegiance to one another, and their territory to everyone else.

“Go and do likewise.”
(Luke 10:37)

What about “the colors” of Christians? What are they? How are they to be worn?

The Bible tells us that in the early Church the people of the world knew the Christians “by their love for one another.” What color is that? It’s the color of GRACE – love that cares! Genuine care for people – not just our fellow Christian family, but for all the people of our life: the ones we live by, the ones we commute with, the ones in class or at our workplace, the ones we meet in the grocery store.

Jesus has set the example of how our colors are to be worn – in our response to people and their needs. His story of the Good Samaritan is a prime example of our Christian colors being worn well (see Luke 10:30-37). The keywords come at the end of Jesus story as he says, “Now go, and do the same.” In other words – wear these colors!

Our land proudly wears the colors of Autumn. Sports fans proudly promote their teams by wearing their colors. Gang members publically declare their allegiance to one another by their colors. May we who declare and follow Jesus proudly wear His color of GRACE. May we promote Jesus’ cause. May we declare our allegiance to Him. May we “go, and do the same” by caring for others in His Name.

In September, the Council and Ministry Chairs met to hear about the plans each ministry has for the coming year. It promises to be a busy and exciting time! We hope you'll be able to participate in many of the events and opportunities for service and Christian growth in your lives. So, stay tuned to the announcements in the Sunday bulletin, Salt Shaker, emails, flyers and our new church website!

Also, on Sunday, October 30th (a "Big Sunday") there will be a Ministry Fair after the service to help us get connected.

After meeting with our conference superintendent, Rev. Howard Burgoyne, this summer, the Council has met several times to work on the pastoral search. In September we have been praying about and preparing the nominations for the Pastoral Search Committee. Thank you for your responses and being willing to be considered to serve on the committee. We're grateful for a congregation who cares so deeply about the future of our church!

On Sunday, October 16th, we will hold the congregational meeting to elect the Pastoral Search Committee.

Van Fully Funded!

The Stewardship and Finance Ministry has just learned that the new 15-passenger van is now fully paid for through the generosity of members and friends of the congregation.

Earlier this year, we contracted to buy a new van for $25,969. A number of contributions were made before and after receipt of the van, but until Sunday, September 11th we still had not received enough contributions to fully fund the cost of the van. But on 9/11, the final $3,590 needed to pay for the van was generously given.

The fact that we were able to replace two old and tired vans with a safer new vehicle in these tough economic times is a strong testament to the benefits of sharing God's abundance. Thanks for the generosity of those who contributed toward the vans and for those who prayed for this day to come.

Bob Fiscus

Thank You . . .

Dear Roseann [and the folks at Covenant],

I wanted to thank you, as well as Pastor Craig and the rest of the cleaning team who came to our new temple and literally "got to business". Our Church looks beautiful and all the weeds and unwanted bushes are gone. Even our back door got fixed when Larry [Boyle] came with his handy tools. Thanks to Pastor Craig and his team, they diligently worked all day until the weeds and overgrown bushes were cleared out. We could not have done it without them. It was a pleasure meeting all of them. Just thinking about the hard work they did brings tears to my eyes. What a blessing it is to have brothers and sisters in Christ like you guys.

Thank you and many blessings to all of you, Violet (Gethsemane Church of Christ)

Treasurer's Report

The Unified Fund financial results for the eight months ended August 31, 2011 were as follows:

INCOME
Unified Receipts	$323,575
Investment & Other Income	1,751
Total Income	$325,326
EXPENSES
Excess of Expenses over Income	$(2,130)

The bottom-line deficit for the first eight months is solely traceable to a shortage of Unified Receipts. Actual receipts were nearly $5,000 under the budget. Had it not been necessary to cancel worship services on the last Sunday in August, due to the storm and resultant loss of electricity, income would almost certainly have been over budget and there would have been a surplus. Fortunately, receipts for the first three weeks of September were encouraging. If this continues, the August gap will be filled. The giving this year has been amazing and speaks volumes about the generosity of the congregation.

By the time the year ends, it is possible that expenses will exceed the budget approved by the congregation earlier in the year. The major reason is an unexpected HVAC repair in the beginning of the year.

Yet another sign of the generosity of the members and friends of the congregation is the full funding of the cost of the new van (see separate article).

At the end of August, there was $31,472 in the Mortgage Fund. Income so far this year has amounted to $19,433. As of April 1, the interest rate was reduced from 6.75% to 5.5%, which will save a considerable amount of interest. Monthly payments will remain at $4,875 in accordance with a resolution passed at the congregation's last annual meeting. Considering the normal amount of future monthly income and the mortgage payments, the fund should be able to support mortgage payments through the middle of next year.

Blessings to you all, Bob Fiscus

A Culture of Generosity

According to the Cambridge University Dictionary the definition of “Generosity” is – The act of being generous – willing to give help or support, especially more than is usual or expected.

The Bible talks about generosity (giving) in Luke 6:30, “Give and it will be given to you. A good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over, will be poured in your lap. For with the measure you use it, it will be measured to you”.

God shares with us the generosity of His grace. “For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith – and this not from yourselves, it is a gift of God not by works, so that no one can boast” Ephesians 2:8-9. God’s grace means there is nothing we can do to make God love us more and there is nothing we can do to make God love us less (Philip Yancey). God also shares with us the generosity of His abundance, power and character.

Over the next few months we will be looking at what God has done for us and what we can do for God, personally and as a church, in response to His generosity toward us. During the month of October and November we will hear testimonies from various people in our church about how they choose to respond to God’s generosity in their lives. Do you have a story to tell? If so, we’d like to hear from you! How has God been working in your life so that you respond with your own generosity? It may be giving of money or your time – wherever you feel God is stirring you to give in response to His working in your life.

In November we will hear teachings from our Pastor about stewardship. The definition of stewardship is this: Stewardship is recognizing that all we have is a gift from God, all we have belongs to God and all we have is to be used to service God and enjoy God. It’s really pretty simple! We should be generous, as God has been generous to us. Early in November we will be asking you to consider how you can use your resources to support the ministries of our church so that we as a congregation can also respond to God’s generosity toward us. On Sunday, November 13 and 20 we will be asking you to bring a “Culture of Generosity” commitment response to a special table set up during both fellowship times. There we will have information showing what our church is doing with the resources you are giving, the vision our various ministries have for the growth of our church and we will share all your stories of God’s commitment to you and your returning commitment to God.

We’d like to share one more definition with you, also from Cambridge University Dictionary: “Culture” - The way of life of a particular people, especially as shown in their ordinary behavior and habits, their attitudes toward each other, and their moral and religious beliefs.

A culture of Generosity means that being generous is a way of life in our church as we thank God and give Him praise for all He has done for us. Our behavior and habits, even our attitudes toward each other, will reflect our hearts and minds as we generously use our resources to glorify Him. If we have a close relationship with Jesus, our heart will be to give what we have, not to hoard it for ourselves. The Holy Spirit will reveal to us who to give to and how much. If our heart is in the right place, our finances and time will be distributed in line with God’s will. Join us during this exciting time as we develop a Culture of Generosity in our church!

“You will be made rich in every way so that you can be generous on every occasion, and through us your generosity will result in thanksgiving to God.”

2 Corinthians 9:11

Letter from our Missionaries in Brazil

Hope that all is well there and that you have fully recovered from the effects of the hurricane. Things are going fairly normal here.

We had a good church service with the Yanomami this week. Felio came back on Monday after spending some time out in Boa Vista helping Patricia with the Bible translation. He did an energetic job of leading the singing and directing the service. I finished teaching from Revelation chapter 6 and Krista taught Sunday school for the little kids. Several of the other church leaders are still away so it was good that Felio was able to lead the service. He himself has recognized the need to have a number of people available to divide the responsibilities and fill-in for each other. Thinking of this, he had Soldado start helping lead the singing this week so that he can get more comfortable in that role. He also had Isaque help a little. Isaque appears to be doing well spiritually and in his personal life. He is a natural leader and did a great job as a church leader in the past before his fall so we all look forward to seeing him fully restored in God's gracious forgiveness. . .

There has been a government team here in Palimi-U this past week distributing insecticide impregnated mosquito nets to the entire population. They have been proven to be very effective in controlling malaria when used properly. So they have been going around to all the houses installing the nets on everyone's hammocks and giving orientation about their use and care. The people here know about mosquito nets but are not accustomed to sleeping with them regularly. The few that they have acquired during visits to town in the past were mostly valued for their utility in netting small fish. So it will be interesting to see if they use these the way they are supposed to. I was asked to help translate in the meeting with the people who live near us. They carefully explained that these nets should not be used for fishing because of the insecticide. Hopefully the malaria will go away. It is really nice when we don't have to worry about it. It sounds like the Brazilian government is investing a lot in these nets. Besides the Yanomami area, we heard that the neighboring state of Amazonas recently ordered 1,200,000 of them for distribution to those living in the river regions.

Type of Ministry

Ministry Type: CrossWorld missionaries work together with Brazilian nationals in the Evangelical Mission of Amazonia (MEVA), reaching several indigenous tribal peoples such as the Yanomami, Macushi, Wapishana, Ingariko, Maiongong, and Wai Wai. Some groups have been very responsible and have turned to Christ in mass (e.g., Wai Wai), but others have been more resistant (e.g., Yanomami).

General Strategy

General Strategy: Our goal is a strong indigenous church in each of the tribal areas mentioned above. That requires hardy men and women with many different passions and skills since this is a very remote region with airplane access primarily. Missionaries live in remote tribal villages and endeavor to live the incarnational Gospel to people of a simple lifestyle.

Daniella, Barak and Joshua are doing well. They continue to do their school work and chores and go swimming in the river whenever they can. Yesterday afternoon we made an outing to the "Sand Island" up river. They had fun jumping off the house-sized rocks and catching fish for the aquarium.

I guess that's all for this week,

Oasis and JHAMS

Youth groups fired up the first week of September this year. We have a huge group of high school students with some great student leaders who we anticipate are going to make it a very powerful year. We have a talented group of adult leaders returning from last year. Please pray for Brenda Adriani, Mark Hatfield, Tim Herrmann, Melissa Otten, Evan Soderholm and Kyla Trinklein as they share their lives leading our small groups. We start the year talking about the Reason for God based on Tim Keller's thought provoking book.

Our JHAMS group took a hit as a big group of students moved up into Oasis, but the students who remain are connected well with each other and are enthusiastic about JHAMS. It is a group primed for outreach because of their welcoming personalities and desire for God. Pray for our gifted leaders in JHAMS: Christine Austin, RJ Gerte, Kristina Meyers, Melissa Otten and Jeremy Soderholm. Pray for wisdom and discernment as they guide our middle school students. The teaching focus to begin the year is how basic theology like God's revelation, the Trinity, and God's attributes inform and guide our daily lives.

Foundations began on Kickoff Sunday. We are fortunate to have Bill Austin and John Drummond back together teaching this important 2-year overview of the Bible. They look at the Old Testament together this year to see what it teaches us of God and our relationship to Him. Pray for Bill and John as they instruct our kids in the basis of our faith.

angelfood MINISTRIES

Early in September we received a notice from Angel Food Ministries that they would not be holding a September distribution and asking us to pray as the ministry re-examined their business and the restructuring of their operations to focus on ways in which they would be able to continue to help their customers and church partners.

Unfortunately, today we learned that Angel Food Ministries has made the decision to cease operations. The following is the notice that has been posted on their website (angelfoodministries.com).

Gail Lent

Angel Food Ministries has considered many options regarding our future. At this time we regret to inform you that we have not found a solution that will allow Angel Food Ministries to continue to distribute food on a monthly basis and have decided to cease operations. We realize the pressure that this places on our host sites, community food banks and customers.

However, there is a group of former employees and food vendors that are working to find a better way of serving those who have come to depend on Angel Food.

Unfortunately many if not all other food ministries have gone out of business in recent years. Angel Food has not been immune from the same economic and market conditions that led to the loss of other food ministries. It's important to note that in the past we never relied on donations; less than 1% of annual revenues have come from donations. We are grateful that we have been able to help tens of millions of customers save hundreds of millions of dollars in food costs. We also are grateful to have been able to return about $24 million to our church host sites and other partner organizations.

With the help of our volunteer staff 98 percent of the thousands of customers who placed an order for September have already received a full refund. We continue to work with the USDA to credit the remaining 59 customers who used their SNAP benefits to place a September order. Federal regulations prohibit us from simply sending them a check for a full refund.

The USDA/SNAP officials have been very helpful in seeing to it that these refunds are taking place in an orderly fashion. Those who placed orders through their local host sites will need to contact that site directly for a full refund.

We are comforted by the thousands of comments we have received expressing support for Angel Food Ministries and the great need to continue helping those in need. We at Angel Food Ministries are truly heartbroken to have to cease operations but it has not compromised our faith in God or our commitment to helping those in need. Thank you for your prayers, faithfulness and your commitment to Angel Food Ministries over these past 17 years.

God Gave Me a Lift

It's often funny how you can't mess up God's plans. I forget what year I moved to Wooster but I moved to a temporary place because my name was next on the list for an apartment. The board of MRDD stepped in because they didn't want me living on a 2nd floor in case of fire. They offered me a house downtown and I was asked to trust them (I figured a County-owned house would be up to code) because it wasn't accessible yet so I couldn't get in to see what I was getting. They used my funding to buy a lift and get the house ready for me to move in.

I moved in and was soon sorry I did. There was no window on the front door so I could see who I was letting in, I had to use a blow up tub because the actual tub didn't work, the heat didn't work, windows wouldn't shut, and I couldn't get anything fixed. I took pictures and documented everything and made a case to get an apartment because it was an emergency. I actually moved without telling a soul or paying my last rent and basically said to leave me alone or I would call every inspector in the area. Um, they ran.

The one thing I did have was my lift. For 7 years I tried to sell it but it just sat. I hated Ohio, it was always problem after problem after problem and nothing ever got better, only worse. I just wanted out of Ohio.

It was the last month of a job, I had my last check, and I either had to leave Ohio or be homeless. I posted everywhere on the internet. Finally someone in New York offered me a place, but it wasn't accessible. He said "If only we had a lift". I laughed and said "If only I could get mine to New York." He was shocked that I had a lift, and I was shocked that he could bring it to New York. A bigger shock was that it fit and went as high as we needed it to, AND, it works like new.

So all things really do work together for good. I'm trying to remember that as the town of Binghamton was flooded, the housing authority was destroyed, and no one is taking applications for housing. Things just never go right for me. So I'm trying to be part of some fundraisers for flood victims who have lost everything. I want to share some music, a smile, some tears, and try to unite hope in this community. God will never let anyone down.

I left my dog when I moved and that was hard for me. But I'm going to a Church where Father Dave and Kay have a dog. So being they live near me, I can walk her, give her treats, and spoil her. Her name is Sophie and I now proudly have her dog hair on my chair. I left everything I knew when I left Ohio, so Sophie is helping me move forward. And being so many people around here have lost everything, I'm using her hair on my chair to remind people to hold onto the smallest, tiniest thing that will help them to move forward.

Because of me, Sophie is having her picture taken with me for the Church member's directory. She's allowed to attend Church once a year, and people know her, so I decided she needed to be in the directory. I'm claiming Sophie as my friend because dogs are man's best friend. Silly? Perhaps. But right now people need a lift, they need the smallest thing to smile about, myself included. So I'm trying to use things that God has given me to lift other people up.

New Church Website!

After much research, discussion, planning and designing, we now have a new church website!

Although still under construction, the website is up and running and can easily be accessed. If you haven't seen it already, take some time to visit www.coveaston.org.

Photos are still needed, an audio of the pastor's sermons will be added and in the next few months a password protected page for our Church Phone Directory will also be available.

If you have any suggestions, comments or concerns, please don't hesitate to contact Gail Lent in the Church Office — she would love to hear from you (Honest! She wrote this article!)

Covenant Church of Easton

Church Compassion in Action Honoree

Fighting poverty from the inside out

Dear Craig,

On behalf of the Staff and Board of Directors of Bridgeport Rescue Mission we are delighted to announce that Covenant Church of Easton will be recognized as our Church Compassion in Action honoree at our 2011 Restore Hope Banquet taking place on Saturday, October 15.

Your leadership has inspired the people of Covenant Church of Easton to be the hands and feet of Christ. We believe the church meets ALL of the criteria for this recognition:

- A church body willing to put hands and feet to work to serve the hungry, homeless and addicted.
- A church body that advocates publicly for the poor and downtrodden of Fairfield County.
- A church body that commits financial or material resources to make a significant impact on the lives of the poor.

Examples of how the church body serves Christ through the Mission are numerous. Here are just some examples that stand out to us:

- Volunteers from the church have been faithfully serving the Mission for many years.
- One couple (Bob & Ruth Lewis) has been serving meals on the Mobile Kitchen for so long we can't count the years.
- Also, Ruth is one of the Women's New Life students' favorite teachers. She faithfully teaches a class at the Women's Center every week.
- Several men from the church have been or are currently Mentor's to our Men's New Life students.
- Both Dan Wolgemuth and Adrienne Reedy have blessed the Mission with their extraordinary musical gifts by singing and playing at various events to help us raise the funds necessary to operate.
- Covenant Church has hosted several New Life Graduation events including great food and fellowship. You have shared in the greatest joy with us . . . Transformed lives!
- One of our Board of Directors, Bob Fiscus, has served faithfully for [many] years, joyfully serving in several office positions and as President of the Board.
- At least once a year the wonderful people of Covenant Church of Easton host a barbecue, picnic or other fun event for the Staff and New Life Students. The Christ-like hospitality we have been shown is a blessing to us all.
- People from Covenant Church of Easton have been enthusiastic supporters of our Banquets, Golf Tournaments, this year's Walk-a-Thon and others. We are grateful.
- Lastly, we have appreciated that Covenant Church of Easton has been faithfully giving gifts of financial support for as far back as our records show. We are now 18 years old . . . We couldn't be who we are or continue doing what we do without consistent financial support from churches like Covenant.

I am grateful for your partnership as we serve Christ by providing a place of hope and dignity, fighting poverty from the inside out. We hope that many from the congregation can join us at the Restore Hope Banquet to celebrate God's work through the Mission in partnership with Covenant Church of Easton.

To God be the glory!
