

Rich Toward God

A Kingdom Response to the Current Crisis (2)

A Kingdom Response

- Reduce expectations of this world
- Rethink the meaning of success
- Raise generosity
- Re-commit to community

Stanley Grenz, The Moral Quest: Foundations of Christian Ethics, p. 259

The narrative of the Creator God declares...that all creation including every human being, belongs ultimately to God. Cognizant of this, the Christian ethic involves looking at life in its entirety as a stewardship. Our calling is not to view ourselves as owners, but as administrators under God of whatever he has entrusted to us.

Stanley Grenz, The Moral Quest: Foundations of Christian Ethics, p. 259

Being a steward means administering our personal lives, including all that we have and are—our physical being, intellectual acumen, abilities and even the years God entrusts to us—for the glory of our Creator.
