

Good morning! Great to see you at church!
You should come to small group Bible study on Monday or Tuesday to dig deeper into what REST in God looks like!

Opening Prayer

Thank God for being present. Ask him to let his truth shine through. Ask him to humble us so we can learn from him.

Getting To Know Each Other

What is the best part about coming to this small group?

Points to Ponder

Remember, circles are full of rest when they are (1) not horseshoes, (2) focused on forgiveness, and (3) remembering Jesus presence. Let's strive to do that tonight.

Evaluate yourselves. Of the three things above, which does your group struggle with most? How can you remedy that?

Read Mark 6:17-29. While this is obviously an extreme case, what does this teach about being willing to correct someone when they sin?

Read Matthew 18:15. Which part of the sentence "Go, and show him his fault, just between the two of you" is most difficult for you?

Read Matthew 18:21-35. How does the context of the sermon text help you understand the attitude with which you should deal with each other?

Next Steps

- I will reach out to someone who has sinned against me.
- I will invite someone new to small group.
- I will join a small group this week. (Talk to Pastor)
