

Prophet blessing

Prophet, you are a visionary. You are at your finest doing what God created you to do when you are trying to solve problems. You easily do vision casting to get people, especially leaders, to see the call of God on their life and to embrace pain in order to live in their birthright. You are fulfilled when you can show a picture of God so real that it takes others to the point of excellence and experiencing all that God can do. I bless this inspirational and transformational quality of your gift.

I bless your passion for excellence in yourself and others, especially leaders. You understand that the damage done to people and to the kingdom, when sin is dealt with lightly. You stand in the gap between what is and what could be. You are quick to say this is wrong, but you know how to wisely handle principles of Grace, reconciliation, and rebuilding to restore a broken life.

I bless your fierce intentionality and intensity. Let God sanctify that gift of excellence because he is excellent, so that you don't fall into perfectionism.

I bless your need to be alone. God wants time alone with you for intimacy with Him. It is important to give Him this firstfruits of your time.

It seems that you are called to pay a higher price than other gifts in your personal disciplines. There are seasons when God seems to be silent in your life. I bless you during these pruning times to build a deeper root system for greater productivity and fruit that remains. In these times God is drawing you up to a higher level. I bless you with making sense of your wilderness experience.

I bless your commitment to abstract truth. You demonstrate faith based on the principles of God's word. The fear of the Lord is your stock in trade. I bless you with keen, sensitive ears to what God desires, because when you hear from him, you will do it. You often stand like a signpost directing towards the Way, the truth and the life to insight others to action, to turn their eyes towards God, and to encourage them forward.

You are a trailblazer and pioneer, not a city dweller. You are a catalyst, not a slow responder. You think outside the box. You hate maintaining the status quo. You know no fear in your basic boldness. You are not intimidated by the unknown or change.

You tend to see things in black and white, right and wrong. You hate lukewarm, mediocre, and compromise. I bless that intolerance for mediocrity and shades of gray. Let God temper it with viewing others through the blood of Jesus, who was full of grace and truth.

You have keen discernment to quickly assess and evaluate people and situations. You can spot rebels and phonies, especially in leadership. You do not tolerate rebellion, hypocrisy, and denial. I bless you to let God add His grace so that your discernment does not turn to judgment, criticism, and bitterness.

I bless you with growth in grace in your major battlefields--Alienation , unforgiveness, and bitterness. I bless you to come into alignment with God's purposes for you. I bless you with gaining from the Spirit of God a new understanding of who you are as God designed you to be. I bless you in Jesus name, amen!

Servant Blessing

I bless you for the richness you bring to life in caring for the needs of others in practical ways. You know the blessedness of giving of yourself in acts of kindness, thoughtfulness, and the second mile effort for others. You preach sermons without words, with sermons of service.

You have few enemies. I bless your way of love and grace that puts people at ease. You communicate that the purpose of life is people. You are a good listener. You are genuine and personal in relationships. You see the best in others.

I bless your desire to invest your life daily, moment by moment, in things that last. But because of your desire to meet needs and please people, you have difficulty saying "no" to competing demands. You can get overcommitted when you default to meeting people's needs without asking God. I bless you with learning the art of knowing when to serve. God wants to define who you are and help you empower others with responsibility, not enable them. Be free in the spirit to say a holy and righteous "no," even to some good things, in order to say "yes" to God's best.

I bless you for being totally trustworthy and working very hard. You exemplify a life well lived. Nothing higher can be said than that you love, live for, and give yourself to the right things.

I bless you to present your entire being available to God for his purposes, not the agenda of others.

Satan's only defense against the authority and anointing of your servant gift is to get you to believe the lie that you are a nobody. Therefore, you tend to have a battle for self-worth. You may have attracted dishonor, especially in the home. I bless you to see the value in yourself and believe God's truth about yourself and your call. I bless you with a download from God of personal identity, worth, dignity, and legitimacy that conquers shame, dishonor, and victimization.

I bless the purity of your motives. You can be trusted and are straightforward, possessing integrity, truthfulness, and honesty. I honor you for your qualities of purity of heart.

You have a particular stewardship in prayer for healing the ecology and cleansing land, air, and water. I bless your authority for the restoration of the environment that has been damaged by the sin of man. You recognize defilement in land and apply the laws of repentance and cleansing. Be bold in prayer and bless the land in alignment with the purposes of God in creation.

I bless you with being mighty in spirit with wisdom, gentleness, and dignity. I bless you with quietness and stillness inside and total insurance. I bless you with seeing more signs of God's favor and presence on you, as you move with Him in the power of purity in the purifying mantle of the servant. Your glorious release has begun by God's goodness. I bless you in Jesus name amen.

Teacher Blessing

I bless your God-given need to validate truth. It is central to who you are. You serve the body of Christ when you look at things from a number of different angles to validate truth. This is one of the best ways to identify the teacher gift. (Luke 1:1-4) Luke, with his teacher gift, wrote more details on the history of the early church than any other New Testament author.

You have a hunger for understanding that causes you to ask many questions. I bless you to celebrate the power and presence of God, seeing His fingerprints and rejoicing over what he is doing. I bless you to incarnate the person and character of Jesus,(make it living) not just document Him. Resist the temptation to verify truth with your natural wisdom, intellect, or education. I bless you to cultivate relationship with Jesus and see Him in the Word, and to know Him, not just about Him. (John 5:39 - 40; Jeremiah 9:23)

I honor you for your commitment to go to the Word of God first. The best reflection of God's truth is incarnated in your life, not in discussions or arguments or words or ideas. I bless you to take care of your own spirit, so that you can speak into the emptiness of others and share truth relevantly and persuasively.

You process and make decisions slowly. In your search for truth, find the true wisdom of trusting God when you can't figure things out. One of your greatest strengths is that you do not reject new ideas outright, but you do not go forward as quickly as visionaries think you ought to. Repeatedly Scripture says of Mary, "She pondered all these things in her heart." Give your spirit the space, the time, and the solitude it needs.

I bless you the way God designed you. God made you the way you are, and he likes you the way you are. You listen, observe, gather all the evidence, process everything, and summarize it in your mind. Then you give one or two sentences that clarify the whole picture. God made you to slow down impulsive people who jump to conclusions too quickly.

I bless you as God challenges your faith, when you want to know the outcome before the beginning. You may not be willing to begin a process until you can see the end. God gives the next step. and He expects you to obey that before he reveals what comes next. I bless you to not let fear immobilize you and keep you from obeying God.

You tend to have a wonderful sense of humor and can defuse a volatile discussion with a quick, charming one-liner. You are a safe person emotionally, and wounded people feel comfortable being around you. You can listen to brokenness and sin with out a critical attitude. You point people the way back to reconciliation.

Intimacy and prayer can be a battleground for you. Pursue Intimacy with God at the very highest level. Don't settle for knowledge and miss intimacy with God in in-depth personal interaction with Him. You have the duality of validating truth and experiencing intimate relationship with Him. Live in intimacy and worship by feeding both your spirit and your mind. Cultivate both, Spirit and truth!

Responsibility is the key issue for the teacher. I bless you in areas where you excel in responsibility, and I bless you to not just do the things you want, but to do what the Father wants. Go above and beyond as you respond in obedience to Him.

I bless you, teacher, to reveal Jesus as He is. I bless you to come forth with righteousness, refreshment, refuge, restoration and reconciliation. This is your time to show the world the Lord Jesus Christ who reveals the Father, to have that kind of personal relationship. I bless you in Jesus name, Amen!

Exhorter Blessing

God has blessed you with the gift of being a change-agent in your world! You are inspirational and a great motivator who can inspire others to do exploits for God. God designed you to put Him and His glory on a large stage!

You are fun to be around. You are outgoing, intensely people oriented and relational. I bless your ability to cross every barrier, socially, racially, economically, and religiously. You can relate to everybody wherever they are and strike up a conversation about heart matters, because you are adaptable, accepted by everybody. I bless your ability to never meet a stranger. You find the key to their heart in a short time. You can relate to the God-shaped vacuum in people. God opens it up to you. I bless you with meeting people where they are and taking them to the next step that God has for them.

I bless your gift for communication. I bless your words, the urgency and frequency with which you speak. God made you to be verbally expressive, and it is good. I bless you to speak of spirit things, life-giving things. You are called to know God and to make Him known! I bless you with magnifying the greatness of God! Ask God to give you His voice that is not hindered by the legitimacy needs of the soul. When you have touched God and are sharing Him, other people open up their spirits to your spirit to receive revelation about Him. I bless you with maturity and growth, being conformed to Jesus that will keep your gift totally spirit-to-spirit.

You are a visionary. You tend to see the broader picture. You are not intimidated by new ideas, new opportunity, new potential, new challenges, or new truth. Your greatest calling is to know God and to reveal Him to others. I bless you to go vertical with God, hear from Him, and discipline yourself to see Him in ways others do not, so that you can point out truths others overlook. Your teaching style is narrative and illustrative.

People pleasing is a battle for everybody at times, depending on our wounding and where we get our significance and legitimacy. I bless you to win the battle of people-pleasing in order to know God and possess your birthright. God forced world changers Moses and Paul to get to know Him in the desert season alone, so they could become mighty in spirit in what He called them to do. In prison God gave Paul revelation that people have benefited from for 2000 years, as authored the majority of the epistles. We are the recipients 2000 years later through his exhorter gift!!

I bless you with living by principle and risking reaction, offense, alienation, or rejection for the truth of God without compromise or soft choices. I bless you with strength of character, wisdom, and grace to confront what needs to be confronted. Paul the exhorter said, "If I were a slave of men, I would not be a slave of God." I bless you with the freedom from the need to be liked- when God leads you to confront. You will be living in God's highest authority and life-giving anointing when you confront as Jesus did with grace and love. The pleasure of the Father is on you when you take the attitude of Jesus toward sin.

I bless you with taking your God-designed dominion over time and timing. I bless you with NOT being defeated by time, but having responsibility in time issues. That is who God made you to be.

I bless you as you righteously respond to pain and see redemptive lessons in personal pain and suffering. You earn authority that comes through embracing personal pain and suffering, so that God releases your authority in His Kingdom.

I bless you Exhorter, to reveal God and His greatness, His holiness, His perfection. Continue to be your joyous, extravagant self. Press hard, run fast, pursue the limitless horizon. I bless you to unleash the Spirit and the Word in the context of community to the glory of God. I bless you to be a reflection of the nature of Christ wherever you go! Bless you in Jesus name, Amen!

Ruler Blessing

I bless your leadership call to organize and administer social units, groups of people, and resources. Your maximum leadership quotient is based on God's gifting, being submitted to God's law, and being life-giving to those around you. You can visualize the final result of a major undertaking by a group, and at the same time break down major goals into smaller achievable tasks for individuals, as Nehemiah did. I bless how you challenge people to go beyond anything they have done before, but you are sensitive to know when you are putting other people under too much pressure.

I bless your strength of seeing the opportunity to use imperfect, broken people and position them to draw the best out of them without letting their brokenness damage the whole. I bless your ability to know what you should and should not delegate to others.

Some will not appreciate the work that you are doing or the way you are doing it. Some will resist and resent you, and others will be jealous of you. I bless you to carry on because God has designed you to be less influenced by public opinion than most. You can endure opposition and criticism by those over, under, and around you. I bless you to press on when people who should support you, don't.

I bless you as you inspire and encourage a team through cheerfulness, approval, praise, challenge and personal sensitivity. Everyone needs to know their role is vital, and where their contribution fits in the overall scheme. I bless you to not overlook individual needs of workers and not to view them as resources, as pieces on a chessboard to accomplish goals or tasks. I bless you to shepherd people. It is a beautiful part of being a ruler to see your call as a shepherd.

I bless you with a singleness of heart and the ability to focus on what God has called you to do. The example of Nehemiah is your heritage as a Ruler. You get results that are beyond brilliant administrative skills when you are partnering with God, doing the main thing or the one thing He has called you to do. Your Father is pleased when you do the impossible, so that He gets the glory when the only explanation for it is "God was in it." He is tapping into what He has placed within you, and your Father delights in watching you in operation. That is His great joy!!

A potential weakness of your gift is compromise, settling for what is OK instead of God's best. That is not God's highest and best for you. God designed you for living in righteousness, holiness and to be life-giving. On these values you stand or fall. I bless you to use the moral authority that comes from submitting to God as the basis of your authority. Where you have integrity, you will have spiritual authority, greater influence, and everything necessary to lead people.

I bless you Ruler, to walk in the fullness of your calling and to show the world what freedom can be. To pursue the full range of dominion that God intended for you. God wants you to partner with Him in the spiritual realm and do the supernatural, and accomplish what only God can do. I bless you Ruler, In Jesus name, Amen!

Giver Blessing

Giver, God choose you in Christ before the creation of the world to be who you are and to be gifted just as you are. You are not as out front as some of the other gifts, but they need you. I bless you to be enriched and enlarged in God's design of you and to come into alignment with His plans for you. God loves your gift, and he celebrates the complexity of your life. I bless you for your diversity. You are involved in many projects, interests, and activities. You are adaptable and flexible. You do not fit easily into stereotypes or molds.

I bless your nurturing and celebrating family, and your desire to have family comfortable in relationship. Nurture is a big component of your gift. It is an expression of the nature of God. I bless you as you release into your family line everything that God has in the gold mine of your inheritance. I bless you with representing the heart of the Father who is a God of community. You represent His desire to create, nurture, and sustain community because you are made in His image. You are life-giving!

I bless your desire, ability, and authority to birth, nurture, and protect new ideas, new ministries and new things. The prophet gift needs you for the synergy released when you and the prophet team together in the alignment and timing that God has designed for the two of you.

I bless your generational world view. You are focused on preparing the way for others after you. God designed you to release generational blessings. God calls you to bless and to raise blessing to a high level! You fulfill your birthright when you invoke life-giving generational blessings for your family and community and produce life-giving systems that express God's design.

I bless you for your independence and how you stand alone. It is a positive trait when it partners with acknowledging your need of God. Pride in personal competence is a challenging occupational hazard of the giver gift. I bless you with the ability to overcome the temptation of considering yourself to be self-contained, having the authority, the money, the influence, the resources, and/or the security to do whatever you feel led to do. I bless you to be vigilant and not to let this strength be corrupted into control, which is a perversion of your gift.

I bless you with understanding and an awareness of where your gift gets tripped up. I bless you with healing of the wounds that have caused your basic trust to be fractured and cause you to respond out of woundedness. I bless you to grow into your greatest potential living in the authority and honor of the giver gift.

I bless you Giver, to win the battle of gratitude. I bless you as a networker, bringing people together, persuading and inspiring people to do things that they would not normally do. You speak of what is good, righteous, and commendable in other people.

You resist manipulation of information. You do not like to have anything withheld from you. You have an intuitive sense for what is false. I bless your gift of discernment in this area.

I bless you to go deeper with God and deepen your spiritual motivation of holiness, which is pleasing to Him.

You find favor in money and resources flowing to you without human explanation or reason. It just comes. You find bargains, and discounts. At times you may find yourself fighting the temptation to use money as a point of security or as a means of gratification, entitlement, reward, or control. I bless your spirit with the ability to overcome these temptations.

I bless you to give well and wisely where there is the greatest potential for eternal return on your investment. When your giving is exercised with God's wisdom, it makes others grateful, and He gets the glory!

I bless you Giver with being secure because of your relationship with God. Let God take your faith to new levels. Sometimes faith is hard for you, because you want to avoid risk, and it may lead to fear and control. It is not God's design for you to play it safe and only do the things that you are sure that you can handle. I bless you with faith that is greater than fear of risk.

I bless you with being the model of a steward of everything God gives! The community needs the dignity, honor, and the beauty of the God-seeking Giver! I bless you with moving into your full birthright!! In Jesus name, Amen!

Mercy Blessing

I bless you and honor you for your special place as the most complex and most sensitive of the gifts. You are the crown jewel of God's creation. The apostle John is the model for your gift, with his intimate and confidential relationship with Jesus.

I bless you for your safety for those who are wounded. You tend to attract people who are having mental and emotional distress. I bless your initiative toward the wounded ones. You know who is feeling rejected, excluded or wounded. You can touch a grieving heart with your quick release of tears.

I bless your deep power of compassion, the most healing of all human emotions. I bless your loyalty to those you love and your ability to sense genuine love. You have great expectations from friendships and can be deeply hurt by disappointments in friends. Jesus is your only Friend who will never disappoint.

You speak the language of the heart that is sometimes too deep for logic or for words. I bless you as you try to speak the language that your spirit does not have the vocabulary for. I bless how you can recognize and capture God's presence in the ordinary events of everyday life. You see the beauty in the smallest things.

I bless your desire for closeness. You measure acceptance by physical closeness and quality time together. You crave intimacy of soul, physical touch, hugs, communication and contact. God designed you for intimacy in body, soul and spirit. He will make a way for its holy and righteous expression by His grace.

I bless you with God's perspective on pain. Without His perspective, you can see no spiritual benefit to pain and suffering. When you avoid pain, the discipline of God may be wasted, because He builds maturity through the discipline of pain.

I bless you to turn to God when you are hurting. You can be sensitive, easily injured by the words and actions of others. You have a hard time healing from injury and processing what you are feeling. Others say to you, "just get over it." This lack of understanding can cause you to withdraw and shut down. I bless you to pursue God of all comfort and Father of mercies, who will move into the pain and minister life where healing is needed.

I bless you with healthy, God-ordained boundaries. You can become a burden-bearer for burdens God does not intend you to bear. You don't have to absorb everybody's burdens. Jesus daily bears your burdens. Trust Him to help you process emotions. I bless you to breathe deeper, live more freely and connect more with the people and God as you refuse to carry unholy burdens.

I bless your decision making processes. You tend to be slow to make transition based on emotional processing. It is not wrong; it is uniquely you! You do not like change; you require longer to disengage emotionally and re-engage in the next thing. I bless you as you let God take you through this process in His time.

Your spirit knows you are made to worship. You seek the face of God in intimacy. You are called to fulfillment by connecting with the Spirit of God and easily going into His presence to absorb His holiness and glory and to bring others there. I bless you as you impart the blessing of presence and alignment to people, land, the environment and buildings.

You are called to be large-spirited. I bless you Mercy, in the name of the 7-fold Spirit of the true and living God, In Jesus name, Amen!
