THE DERISION OF HEAVEN

The world seems to be increasingly hostile towards Christians.

How should the church respond?

Join us in this study of Daniel as we find an excellent example of how the church should behave while exiled in a hostile culture and learn that God is still alive and active for the good of his people.

"Longing for Eden"

- Intro: 1. Perhaps, the most common yearning of any modern Metropolis is for _____ or country life.
2. This yearning might well be described as a _____.
3. Text: Genesis 4:1-8

I. Life Was Not Like It _____ for Adam and Eve.

1. It was their own _____ that had cost them that good life.
2. We, too, may remember longingly a previous life that was taken away, due to our own foolish mistakes.
 - Perhaps, it was a _____ that we lost due to our irresponsible performance.
 - Or, a _____ that we lost due to our immaturity.
 - Or, _____ that we lost because we were too busy.
3. Of course, they (Adam and Eve) had a choice.
 - ♦ They could idle their time away, _____ for life to again be the way it was.
 - ♦ Or, they could _____—and so, make the most of life as they now found it.

II. We Ought to be Able to Learn Some Valuable Insights From the Family of Adam and Eve.

1. First of all, a _____ did not guarantee them a life with no disappointments.
2. The second thing we can learn from Adam-and-Eve's family is that _____ are available even in an imperfect world.
3. Finally, we must _____ the world we are called to, even though it is not the one we would desire.
