Equipping Leaders for Tomorrow

November 21, 2017

Dear family and friends,

Thank you so much for your continued prayers and support. We couldn't do this without your partnership. We are so thankful for God's miraculous provision for housing, schooling, and finances. We are privileged to be able to teach at SEU for two years as our missionary assignment for AGWM. Isaac (8- 3rd grade) and Elizabeth (6- 1st grade) love their new school and are doing well in school. Isaac enjoys singing, reading adventure books and playing football with friends. Elizabeth loves doing ballet, reading ballerina books, drawing and writing notes to Daddy and Mama.

Teaching at SouthEastern University- Equipping the Next Generation of Future Leaders

It has been such a blessing to teach these wonderful students. This has been a busy semester. We taught three classes: Worldview & Missions Strategies, World Religions and Christ, Culture & University-with first year students to graduating seniors. As we discuss Buddhism and Hinduism in World Religions, missional strategies & how to share the Gospel in different parts of the world in Worldview and His Divine Calling in Christ, Culture & University, we are privileged to hear the heart, passion and struggles of this millennial group both in class and also outside of class. It has been wonderful meeting students for meals and coffee and hearing their passions and questions about the future. This year SEU will be sending 93 mission teams all over the world. Many of our students will be taking part of these short-term mission trips. God has been calling this younger generation to rise up and carry the torch of the Gospel to the nations. Many have met with us about doing missions after graduation. One of our students has recently been approved as a missionary associate to Uruguay. After graduation, she will be moving to Uruguay for two years. We love being able to impart our passion, our vision for missions and help equip these students for future service in leadership, ministry and missions.
