Deeply Rooted in Faith, Choosing to Live in Hope.
FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, SALINA, KS - WWW.FPCSalina.org

The life of faith is a life of questions.

There are certainties, to be sure. As the author of Hebrews points out, "faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen." And of these convictions, Paul captures the most important with his affirmation from Romans, "for I am convinced that nothing in all of creation can separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord".

Among those things in all of creation that cannot separate us from God's love is our curiosity. We are curious people. We want to understand our world and our lives. This is why one of the first words we learn to speak is "why?". We should ask questions. A questioning faith is a growing faith.

First Presbyterian seeks to offer many opportunities to explore faith. But there are many questions we have which do not fit into scheduled programming. Perhaps they are questions that occur to us while listening to a sermon or an adult class. Maybe the question is spawned by something heard or seen on radio, television, or the Internet. Maybe they are just questions we have carried for years but never felt comfortable asking them.

To help address these faithful questions, we are introducing a new feature in the newsletter. Questions of faith is a monthly column in which real questions submitted by real persons can be addressed. Jim, Tom, and Austin will be the primary respondents, but some questions might be best answered by experts from other fields. You may submit your questions in anyway you like, although email is the easiest (jim@fpcsalina.org). All published questions will be anonymous unless otherwise specified. Although the questions will be published anonymously, it would be helpful to include your name with your question.

We hope this feature will help enhance our spirit of faithful inquiry at First Presbyterian!

A Long Way Gone Memoirs of a Boy Soldier

Book Study

facilitated by Sydney Soderberg

"Everyone in the world should read this book . . . We should read it to learn about the world and about what it means to be human."

- Carolyn See, The Washington Post

"A breathtaking and unself-pitying account of how a gentle spirit survives a childhood from which all the innocence has suddenly been sucked out. It's a truly riveting memoir."

- Belinda Luscombe, Time

Come along as we explore how wars are fought now: by children traumatized, hopped-up on drugs, and wielding AK-47s. Children have become the soldiers of choice in many third world nations. In the more than fifty violent conflicts going on worldwide, it is estimated that there are some 300,000 child soldiers. Ishmael Beah was one of them.

We'll look at the war in the African nation of Sierra Leone through the eyes of a 13-year-old child. How are children made to kill and then stop and resume a more "normal" life? It won't be an easy journey, but if you're willing to look at the world as it is rather than how we want it to be, then please join me in reading and talking about a book whose message will stay with you for a very long time.

Session One:

Sunday, Jan 9th after church OR Tuesday, Jan 11 from 12-12:55. We'll look at the geographic, cultural and political context of the book.

Session Two:

Sunday, Jan 16th after church OR Tuesday, Jan 18 from 12-12:55.

Glen Stovall, a child therapist from Wellspring Psychotherapy, will join our discussion to help us understand how it's possible to cross the boundary that makes us human. Can one descend into the very depths of darkness and find a way out? How are children able to live with such loss and barbarity? Can such deep emotional wounds ever heal?

Session Three:

Sunday, Jan 23rd following church OR Tuesday, Jan 25th from 12-12:55.

In this session we'll focus on whether this is a story of depravity or hope; of grace or God forgotten.

Read more about the book at <http://www.alongwaygone.com/index.html>

Books or CD's can be purchased online at Amazon, Booksense or Barnes & Noble.

Faith Matters: 1st Floor Conference Room, Sundays at 9:00 am

This class helps to remind us that faith does matter! It meets in the Conference Room Sunday mornings at 9:00 am (the January session begins Sunday, January 9) and explores a variety of subjects. The nursery is available. Keep up to date by visiting the web site (www.fpcsarina.org/ministries/adult) for information on Faith Matters classes and much more!

Church Wide Mission Night:

On December 8th, 75 people from the FPC family gathered to assemble First Aid Kits for people around the world impacted by natural disasters. People of all ages enjoyed a chili supper, provided by the Social Justice and Mission Committee, and then rolled up their sleeves and assembled roughly 200 kits. 130 of these kits will be sent internationally, while the remaining kits will be donated to local agencies to assist Salina area families in need. This evening was a great example of how this congregation is committed to God's mission in the world!

Year End Benevolence Report:

The mission statement of this congregation states that "We believe we are called to grow in our commitment to justice, compassion and love. In the same way that Jesus came to serve we look outward to offer help and hope to the world." One significant way that FPC lives out this statement is through the benevolence giving of the Social Justice and Mission committee. Locally, nationally, and internationally we have given to people and organizations in order to provide for basic unmet needs of individuals. Below is a list of ways that your generosity has touched lives here in Salina and around the world.

Reimold Mission Fund and International Mission - $25,532.18

Angel Covers
Fellow Man International of Honduras
Church World Service - CROP Walk
Heifer International

Support of Local Agencies - $18,568.86

Ashby House
CAPS
The Castle Project
DVACK
Emergency Aid Food Bank
Salina Child Care Assoc.
Salina Family Health Care Center
Sunflower Adult Day Center
Central Kansas Foundation

Emergency Requests - $5,802.77

These funds are given on an as needed basis to individuals and families that are referred to FPC through a number of local social service agencies. One particular family came to FPC in need of money to pay for gas so that they could pay their bills and continue to be able to get around town to search for work. FPC gave this family a $25 gas card. The husband of this family returned to our offices a week later to proudly report that he had found work and was very appreciative of the church's help at a difficult time. These funds have also been used to keep families in their homes who struggle to pay rent and to keep heat and electricity on when families fall behind.

Christmas Offerings Update!

This Christmas, FPC contributed to both Heifer International and the Christmas Joy Offering. As of today, a total of $2,593.70, short of a goal of $5,000, has been contributed to Heifer International (www.heifer.org) and $1,159.75 has been contributed to Christmas Joy (<http://gamc.pcusa.org/ministries/specialofferings/christmas-joy-offering/>)

There's still time! If you'd like to contribute to either of these offerings, you may still do so! Please mail your check to the church office before January 7!.
