

*Read about the warning signs
when you should see a doctor!*

from our Parish Nurse Cheryl Howard, R.N.

Health Notes

"There is a time for everything- and a season for every activity under heaven...." Ecclesiastes 3:1

Flu and the common cold share some common symptoms. Though both often can be treated at home, more serious cases require a doctor's care.

The American Academy of Family Physicians mentions these warning signs that you should see a doctor:

- A persistent fever of higher than 102 degrees Fahrenheit that causes body aches and fatigue.
- Symptoms that persist for longer than 10 days or symptoms that worsen instead of improve.

- Shortness of breath, difficulty breathing, or pressure or pain in the chest.
- Confusion, disorientation or fainting.
- Vomiting persistently.
- Significant sinus pain affecting the forehead or face.
- Swelling of glands in the neck or jaw.

How to Keep Your Weight Off

If you look at people who lose a lot of weight and keep it off over many years, a consistent pattern emerges. When more than 10,000 real-life "biggest losers" (people who have lost at least 30 lb. and kept it off) were surveyed, most succeeded by doing a few simple things:

- 78% eat breakfast;
- 75% weigh themselves regularly;
- 62% watch less than 10 hours of TV per week;

- 90% exercise about 1 hour per day; and
- Most eat a low-calorie, low-fat diet.

Among the weight re-gainers in this study, reductions in leisure-time physical activity, dietary restraint, and frequency of self-weighing and increases in percentage of energy intake from fat and disinhibition (less self-control) were associated with greater weight regain.

The Common Cold

The common cold!! So common that a billion of us will suffer through one this season. This occurs because germs from the common cold can exist on a surface for up to 2 days. The best way to avoid those pesky germs is to wash your hands after using the restroom, before eating, and after being in contact with shared objects. Avoid touching your eyes or mouth with unwashed hands. There is no cure for the common cold, however, symptom relief is best achieved by getting plenty of rest, drinking lots of fluids (6-8 glasses of water a day) and eat chicken soup. Yes- chicken soup has been shown to reduce upper respiratory symptoms by limiting the growth of mucous producing white blood cells- therefore you feel less stuffy! Eating spicy foods may also help because they naturally relieve congestion by creating a runny nose! Be on guard- take precautions- persevere!! Good Luck!

Benefits from Cinnamon

Cinnamon is a rich source of manganese, dietary fiber, iron and calcium. It has also been shown to reduce blood sugar (useful for type 2 diabetes), lower LDL (bad) cholesterol and boost the immune system to help you stave off the common cold. We know that cinnamon can boost our immune system, but can it also boost our spirits? Medieval Christian women thought so. For them, cinnamon held a special place.

Updates from the McGavrans missionaries serving in Indonesia

Greetings First UMC! Happy 2015! Wowsers! How can up it be 2015? And are we ready to see what God is yet to do? Looking back on this past year we know we can anticipate great things still ahead.

We ended 2014 with ministry and wonderful friends. We were reminded at the ACSI teacher's conference in Korea the week of Thanksgiving. There is an immense value and need for distinctively Christian school education overseas to support mission families and prepare their kids, not only for their future, but for future impact in the world for Christ. What we are doing is very important.

And would you believe that Don had the pleasure of notifying the 'Christian Service Families' of our school that they were given a 20% tuition decrease for next semester? Can you imagine? Don and I knew there would be people who were already praying about tuition fees for next semester and this would meet some big needs out there. And for sure, the response and stories of answered prayers have been quite rewarding! Glory to Jesus!

Vicki visited a children's cancer unit with our 9th grade class at a hospital about 1.5

hours away. She was able to practice her language and even pray in Indonesian with a few patients. That was meaningful. Vicki accompanied a staff family to Singapore for an unpleasant medical need after a miscarriage, taking care of their two pre-school age boys while they addressed her situation. Don had the challenge of interfacing with two boarding students making poor choices and struggling with their faith beliefs as he sought to balance justice and grace. The fruit from this experience is still unknown, but the seeds have been planted.

We anticipated the birth of Jesus last month, and now we anticipate His walk with us into 2015, because He is alive. He is active. He is before us, behind us, and in us! First UMC, we serve Him in Indonesia because He has called us here. We thank you for supporting our calling and the ministry God appointed us to. If you have questions, please let us know, and if you'd like to visit, we will be here through the summer. You are most welcome!

We wish you warmth and joy!

Spread the news: God is not dead; He is alive! The lost need to hear. You need to speak.

Serving Him in Indonesia,

Vicki, Don and Hunter-Gene

Updates from Jason, Rachel and Isaiah Shore missionaries serving in Kansas City, Missouri (IHOP)

Hello & Happy New Year!

As you read this, our largest event of the year is probably happening or has just come to a close. Our annual Onething conference typically ministers to 20,000+ people locally and hundreds of thousands viewing on the web stream Dec. 28- Jan 1 downtown Kansas City. It's never too late to join us as the sessions will be archived.

Visit www.ihopkc.org/onething to check it out. While you're there take a look at the sweet design. Jason spent the better part of the last 3 months building and perfecting the page and video player. (Of course, he would never tell you that, so I just had to throw that in because I think he did a great job!) Also, thank you for all your prayers. I know we needed them. We look forward to sharing testimonies and some stats with you next month!

We also wanted to take the time to sincerely thank you for your partnership this past year. Your prayers and financial support have been a great source of encouragement, more than you could know. We are filled with thanks to our Father as you stand with us and make this ministry possible.

Our prayer for you in 2015 is from Romans 15, "Now may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that you may abound in hope by the power of the Holy Spirit."

Sending love from KC!!

The Jesus I Never Knew Understanding Who Jesus is and What His Plan is for the End Times

He came to earth as a baby. He died as the Lamb. But He's coming back as a Warrior King to redeem the precious ones for whom He gave up His life. Do you see things happening in the world and wonder what it all means? Are you curious about God's plan for the end time, but feel like the book of Revelation is too difficult to understand? Come spend a day with your brothers and sisters in Christ on Saturday, March 14th as Anne Gatts teaches basic, understandable truths about the character of Jesus Christ found in the book of Revelation and how these truths impact each of us. Look for more information in your bulletin coming soon.

Blessings in the Journey

Originally posted on devotedteachersheart.com

Stopped at a traffic light behind a car equipped with a drop-down DVD screen I could see Disney's Frozen playing. It was 7:30 a.m. so I suspected that Mom or Dad was on the way to childcare to drop off their little ones before work. Two thoughts came to mind:

1. That movie-playing-ability-at-a-finger's-touch would have certainly come in handy when my children were small.
2. That movie-playing-ability-at-a-finger's-touch was robbing that parent of potential quality time.

I am no stranger to chaotic car rides. Traveling with three children under the age of five nearly necessitated the supernatural growth of a third arm to pick-up dropped pacifiers, separate dueling toddlers and calm a crying preschooler all while keeping one hand on the steering wheel. Later, traveling with three teenagers under the age of eighteen offered special opportunities designed for my personal and spiritual character development such as enduring three simultaneous eye rolls without bursting into anger and careening into an oncoming car.

Still, there is something to be said for being conversationally engaged on the way to and from wherever you might be going. When my children were little we didn't just talk, we sang just about everywhere we went. Sometimes they were just silly songs to release energy. Other times there were songs to imprint God's word on their hearts.

When we talked, we talked about where we were going. "Yes, Mommy is lost again, but don't worry. We'll get there eventually."

What was expected of them once we got there. "Do not ask me to buy you gum when we get to the check out. It's not going to happen."

And of course, encouragement and praise. "You did such a great job today. I am so proud of you."

As my kids grew into teenagers they would often feel free to open up about things when my eyes were on the road and not on them. I remember a conversation I had when both of my girls were in the car and the oldest told me that one of her classmates was pregnant. The conversation that followed was heartfelt and honest in a way that we all felt comfortable without the potential of embarrassing eye-contact.

Allowing your child to zone out while watching a movie for the umpteenth time is a tantalizing temptation for tired parents. If I'd had the option when my kids were growing up I am sure I would have had the occasion to use it.

However, as the mother of three amazing grown children I know that the time sphere of influence you have as a parent is precious and limited. When we are over-scheduled with before and after school responsibilities, community functions and church activities, driving in the car can offer some bonus one-on-one interaction if we choose it to be.

I know there will be times when we are rushed and irritated that conversations will be limited to "Stop touching your brother." or "Don't make me pull this car over!" But if we always allow our children to be anesthetized by the power of a singing snow queen we miss a unique opportunity.

The opportunity that uninterrupted time offers us to get to know our children better, share ourselves with them and truly train up our children in the way they should go.

And that can be the real blessing along the journey. "Train up a child in the way he should go: when he is old he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6

Church Financial News by Signe Nicholson, Finance Chairperson

During November, we substantially caught up the balance in our church's General Fund. Here is yet another example of the truth of God's Word in Ephesians 3:20-21 (MSG):

God can do anything, you know—far more than you could ever imagine or guess or request in your wildest dreams! He does it not by pushing us around but by working within us, his Spirit deeply and gently within us.

*Glory to God in the church!
Glory to God in the Messiah, in Jesus!
Glory down all the generations!
Glory through all millennia! Oh, yes!*

Grief Ministry by Melanie Elo

Thank you to all those who attended and served during the Blue Christmas and Memorial Candlelight service on December 22. It was a powerful opportunity to see God moving through people and providing a voice to the grieving. Lives were remembered; emotions were honored and encouragement was shared.

Remember that during the cold, dark months of January grieving people often regress a bit. Please reach out frequently to those you know and encourage them. Visit the Memorial Library located in the Prayer Chapel to find Biblical and spiritual encouragement. Remember, you choose what fills your mind. Is it the pressures of the world or American Idol? Neither will help in your healing. However, surrounding yourself with encouraging songs, books, scriptures and people WILL be uplifting and encouraging.

Lastly, please remember that Stephen Ministers are available to help those grieving loss. Will you allow God to put someone into your life who will confidentially encourage and listen without trying to fix everything? If you're praying for God's help, maybe a Stephen Minister is who He's sending.

Prayer

Prayer: Stop...Drop...Roll...

by Cathy Mosier

We all know what to do if we get on fire... in fact we teach it to our children as soon as they are old enough to understand. STOP... DROP... ROLL...

Well I think prayer should be just that easy. And more importantly I believe we need to be teaching our children that prayer is just that easy.

STOP – what you are doing! Quit running around like a chicken without a head! In your hurry to help God – as if He needed my help – we actually get in His way. So STOP! Find a quiet spot and just STOP!

DROP – drop right down to your knees... it's a humbling position... an acknowledgment of submission... a surrendering of my will to God's ALMIGHTY will... So in your quiet spot where you have STOPPED now DROP to your knees before God, Your Loving Father.

ROLL – yep, same as the fire drill – ROLL your problem, your fire, onto Jesus who loves you! ROLL that big ole problem onto Him who loves you more than you can even imagine. He's waiting for you.

Let's be honest though... it's tough to give up control if we aren't sure who will be driving the bus. So how do we get to know our driver better? Rev. Dennis talks about how to get to know God better each week. To really know more about our Loving Heavenly Father, His son Jesus Christ our Savior and the Holy Spirit Comforter we need to be in the Word on a daily basis.

God taught the Israelites in Exodus that He provided food for them on a daily basis. Not too much. Not too little. But just the right amount. God told them they couldn't gather a bunch and save it for later, but to faithfully, trustingly gather each day.

So try gathering some of the Word each day. The book of Matthew has 28 chapters, one for each day of every month – with a few free days. And in a month you will have read the story of Jesus. The book of Acts has 28 chapters too. And in a month you will have read the beginning of how we became Christian.

So remember:

STOP ... DROP ... ROLL ...

Stephen Ministry

by Cathy Mosier

Stephen Ministers provide ongoing confidential Christian care to people experiencing a wide range of life needs or crises, needs like those listed in our Stephen Ministry brochure. BUT there are less obvious needs for which a person could benefit from the confidential care of a Stephen Minister.

The quiet sufferer, the unnoticed person who encounters a series of smaller losses, stresses or problems, any of which they could normally take in stride, BUT when added together pose a larger challenge. It could also be someone simply affected by the timing of a certain loss. The loss itself may not normally have been significant, BUT when taken in the context of the person's life situation at that point in time, it may be much more difficult to handle.

In most instances, quiet sufferers may very well be able to work things through alone. HOWEVER, they probably could work through the issue much better and with less stress with the help and support of a Stephen Minister.

Our Stephen Ministry looks beyond the obvious needs for care and remembers that there are many people whose needs have been overlooked or are not obvious. Identifying people with those needs, caring for them as appropriate, and helping them find the level of care they need are all important parts of this uniquely Christian caring ministry.

For more info please contact Rev. Dennis, Dale DePoy or Cathy Mosier.

Beginning February 18, for the six weeks of Lent, Children's & Family Ministries will host a free-will dinner every Wednesday from 5:30 – 6:30. Some of the dinners that will be prepared are spaghetti bake night, taco night, soup, chili and sandwich night. Clean-up will start at 6:30, then we all head into the sanctuary for an awesome family worship service led by Pastor Ben or Youth Director Bryan at 7:00 p.m. We are hoping this will be a great time for fellowship and worship with our church families. You can contact Lydia Rychtarczyk with questions.
