Greetings in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ! I hope and pray this finds us all well, physically and spiritually as we look forward to completing this year of discipleship and beginning a new one with the approach of Advent and Christmastide.

As I have been preparing for Charge Conference (November 20 @ 7PM), I am prompted to take a bird’s eye view of where we have been this year, and I am also given the privilege to look toward the horizon of where we hope to be going in the coming weeks and months. In many ways, my heart is warmed and my spirit is full to see more and more people come into this church – whether they are coming as active participants or whether they come as someone who is just testing the waters at this time. Nonetheless, more and more people have come through our doors this year than in years past. Our intentional outreach to open our hearts and our minds and our doors to the community around us is revealing more and more persons with little to no church connection at all identifying with First United Methodist Church as “their” church. Maybe they will never join the church. Maybe they will never put a dollar or two in the offering plate, but they will know the love of God through Jesus Christ because the people called Methodists reached out and invited them and included them to be a part of the Kingdom at this time and in this place. Just recently we hosted over 1000 persons at our Fall Festival; we consistently have over 50+ children attending WOW every Wednesday – many from the community; hundreds attend the Pumpkin Patch every year; 108 children participated in Vacation Bible School this summer with 67 making decisions to follow Jesus in their hearts! We had 300+ kids and families participate in Trunk or Treat last night! Praise be to God for His work with us and among us and in spite of us!

I read an article recently that raised the question many pastors face in the wake of criticism from some who don’t like “the way things are or the way things are going.” In particular, the article addresses the “concerns” of a few in every congregation who don’t like change and who begin to criticize the motives of the church and/or the pastor. The question the author raises is this. “Are we in the church business or are we in the discipleship business?” Our “business” is not to DO church, but to BE the church – and to be the church we must be about making disciples. Jesus unapologetically states this when He tells His followers, “Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.” Matthew 28: 19-20.

I am proud of the work this congregation has done, is doing and will do in the name of Jesus. I am overwhelmed by the generosity of so many who truly understand what it means to be the hands and heart of Christ to a hurting and broken world. Are we/am I perfect? Of course not! Do we/I make mistakes? Of course – always have and always will. But if our heart is in the right relationship with God and we seek to do God’s will as we are led by the Holy Spirit – then I am okay with that because we are living proof that lives are truly being transformed by FUMC Beeville. Thank you for the privilege of serving as your pastor.

In service to Christ and His Church,

Larry

Teddy Bear ministry is need of new or gently used teddy bears for our church pews to be loved and prayed over and then find their way to individuals who need comfort and strength and faith for whatever reason the person feels it is necessary, we have always had a good response from people who have received these bears, so we need your help to keep it going.

The Wofford Sunday School Class is a mixed-age group of singles and couples who focus on Bible-based studies with applications to daily living. Alternating leaders, there is always time for fellowship, coffee, prayer and discussion. The group actively supports mission efforts within the church and community. On October 20, 2013, the class begins a new 10 – 14 week study, How Can I Forgive? A Study on Forgiveness, by Joretta L. Marshall. Come and join us between the two worship services in the Adult Sunday School area on the east side of the Sanctuary. For more information, call Jonnie Jordan (358-1915).

The Nurture Membership Care Committee held the Annual Ice Cream Social/Church Picnic on Sunday, September 15th. Approximately 90 people were in attendance. Eight gallons of ice cream were enjoyed, along with hamburgers, hot dogs, chips, and cookies. Pastor Larry showed a film clip titled “Beware of Christians”, which was enjoyed by many. Thank you to all who made this event a successful one!

Also, the committee is desperately seeking those who have the "gift of gab" and the "joy in prayer" to visit individuals in the nursing homes or shut-ins. Please contact me (Marla Scott) if you are interested in doing this. These folks need you!!

First United Methodist Church
Beeville
Goals for 2013

Primary Focus on the Five Practices of a Fruitful Congregation

- Radical Hospitality – We will strive to continue and strengthen the ministries already in place at FUMC. These include
  1. The Table Fellowship on the 3rd Saturday of every month
  2. WOW (Worship on Wednesdays)
  3. The annual Fall Festival, open to the community
  4. The annual Pumpkin Patch, open to the community including schools and other church groups
- Passionate Worship – We will focus ourselves toward reaching the unchurched and the de-churched through relevant worship and work toward a 20% increase in worship attendance in both Sunday morning services.
- Intentional Faith Development – We will move toward the creation of new small groups with specific target populations (for example, reaching people with full time jobs and busy lives through the use of the Right Now internet study series for a more efficient delivery). We are also developing a comprehensive discipleship model with a goal to involve 50% of our members in small group study.
- Risk-Taking Mission Service – We would like to see 10% of our members involved in mission activities outside the physical walls of FUMC (Mission Trips for example), and 25% involved in “in-house” Mission Projects.
- Extravagant Generosity – We will examine the Missions Budget of FUMC to ultimately approach 20% in giving outside of the church.

Mission Statement:

First United Methodist Church will fulfill the mission of the Church by expressing God’s love in Jesus Christ through effective, Bible based ministries of worship, education, service and fellowship that will meet the spiritual needs of God’s people in our church and community. We will share the joy of our faith and raise the expectations of each other as disciples of Christ.

Prayer Requests

Please send your prayer requests and changes to the prayer list to Nellie Boenig. You may email her at boenig@fnbnet.net or call her at 358-5544. We are trying to streamline the process so no one gets left out, it is difficult for our Pastor to remember all of these names unless they are prepared in advance. If you or a loved one are going into the hospital and would like a visit from Pastor Larry, we also need to know which hospital. We try to keep the prayer list current, but if we remove a name too soon, please let us know and we will be happy to return it to the list. Thank you for your assistance.

To the members of the First United Methodist Church,
Partnering with Schools, Thank you for your wonderful gift of treats! All staff enjoyed the goodies. We appreciate your thoughtfulness and the time and effort put in to making it all. On behalf of Moreno Middle School,

You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill cannot be hidden.” Matthew 5:14
Seasons of Wholeness for November 2013—Cold vs. Flu

“Yet I said to myself, ‘This is my sickness, and I must endure it.’” Jeremiah 10:19.

During this time of year we often wonder if the upper respiratory infection we have is a cold or the flu. Unlike colds, flu can lead to complications like pneumonia, especially in the old, the young, and those with serious health issues. Viruses are transmitted by contact with objects that the infected person has touched after coughing or sneezing. Germs can be transmitted 1 day before symptoms appear and up to 5 days after getting sick. Seasonal flu is a contagious respiratory illness caused by flu viruses. In the US flu season occurs in the fall and winter. Flu can be spread when a person with flu sneezes, coughs, or talks and droplets containing their germs land in your mouth or nose. You can also get the flu by touching a surface or object that has the flu virus on it and then touching your mouth, eyes, or nose. Pills are often considered the first line of defense but with colds and flu, they will not help since antibiotics are for bacterial infections only and cold/flu germs are viral infections. Some think antibiotics help with symptoms but inappropriate use of medication only trains germs to become drug resistant. People who have the flu often feel some of all of these signs/symptoms: Fever or feeling feverish/chills, Cough, Sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, muscle or body aches, headaches, fatigue, and some may have vomiting and diarrhea, though this is more prevalent in children. Complications from the flu include: bacterial pneumonia, ear and sinus infections, dehydration, and worsening of chronic health conditions. Individuals with the flu feel much better within one to two weeks. They are contagious one day before symptoms develop and five to seven days after symptoms appear according to the Centers for Disease Control.

“Don’t excuse yourself by saying, ‘look, we didn’t know.’…He will repay all people as their actions deserve.” Proverbs 24:12

Flu vaccine protects against the flu so the single best way to prevent the flu is to get vaccinated each season. These are two types of flu vaccines: Flu shots—inactivated vaccines (containing killed virus) that are given with a needle. There are 3 flu shots being produced in the US market now. The regular seasonal flu shot is intramuscular, being injected into the muscle. It has been used for decades and is approved for use in people 6 months of age and older, including healthy people, people with chronic medical conditions, and pregnant women. A hi-dose vaccine for people 65 and older which also is intramuscular and this vaccine were first made available during the 2010-11 seasons. An intradermal vaccine for people 18 -64 which is injected into the dermis or skin, also was made available during the 2011-12 seasons. The nasal-spray flu vaccine is a vaccine made with live, weakened flu viruses that is given as a nasal spray. The viruses in the nasal spray vaccine do not cause the flu. This is approved for use in healthy people 2-49 of age who are not pregnant. About two weeks after vaccination, antibodies develop that protect against influenza virus infection. Flu vaccines will not protect against flu-like illness caused by non-influenza viruses. Yearly flu vaccination should have begun in September, or as soon as vaccine is made available, and continue through the flu season which can last as late as May. This is because the timing and duration of flu seasons vary. The Center for Disease Control recommends that you should get a flu shot if you are between the ages of 6 months and 18 years, pregnant, have a chronic health condition (asthma, diabetes, heart (congenital heart disease, congestive heart failure, coronary heart disease) or lung disease-chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, cystic fibrosis, kidney disorders, liver disorders, weakened immune system, neurological conditions, are over 65, or live with or care for those at risk.

“Wash and make yourselves clean. Take your evil deeds out of my sight!” Isaiah 1:16

The best protection against colds or the flu is careful hand washing. Plain soap and water combined with rubbing your hands together are very effective to remove germs. Antibacterial soaps are common but work no better than regular soap and may even increase resistance to antibacterial chemicals. To properly wash your hands, wet you hands with warm water, lather up the soap, and rub all parts of your hands for 15-20 seconds while singing ‘Jesus loves me’. Then rinse will and dry with a clean cloth. If soap and water are unavailable, an alcohol-based hand sanitizer will work just as well.

“Are any of you sick? you should call for the elders of the church to come and pray over you, anointing you with oil in the name of the Lord.” James 5:14

Influenza is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses that infect the nose, throat, and lungs. Most individual’s recover without difficulty. For people in the high risk categories, it can have severe complications and even death. Over a period of 30 years, between 1976 and 2006, estimates of flu-associated deaths in the US range from a low of about 3,000 to a high of 49,000. In the US an average of over 2000 people are hospitalized each year because of complications of which 36,000 will die. Flu is serious business so protect against it. If you are ill please stay at home. Do not share your germs. Treat your symptoms by hydrating yourself, getting plenty of rest, gargling to moisten a sore throat, drinking hot liquids to relieve nasal congestion, taking a steamy shower to clear nasal passages, applying hot or cold packs to congested sinuses, and avoiding air travel. If you are healthy, share Jesus’ love by taking the sick one the standing chicken soap or flu-ids and carting for the children. (Source: Mayo Clinic)

Parental Ponderings

Recently I have been overwhelmed with the thought that we are who we want our children to be. Every wise man and woman through the ages has said this, in some form or fashion, the Bible is full of these exhortations. But in a very real way, recently, theses catchy quotes and bible verses have made a mark. One of my favorite authors is Dr. James Dobson, he talks continually in his books about this. Mark Driscoll said it very concisely,

"Your kids will eat what you feed them, worship where you take them, read what you hand them and live where you move them. Choose wisely."

On that note, they will also listen to the music you do, say the words you do, and treat others as you do. Daughters will learn how to be treated as adult women by watching their fathers, step-fathers, uncles and grandfathers treat the women in their life. Sons will learn how to handle stress, adversity, solve problems and live in the world by watching the men in their lives. The power we, as parents have, is daunting.

Do you remember your childhood lovingly? Do you have respect for your parents? Will your children? When you get angry, do you scream and shout and throw things? How do your children handle anger? What about fear? Sadness? Jealousy? Imagine Mother Theresa’s parents, or the Virgin Mary’s, how did they raise their children so wonderfully?

As a Christian parent, that is very human, I make many mistakes. Daily. I am raising two step children, whom I do not ever want to feel that they are not my own. I strive constantly to be fair and treat them all equally. It seems an uphill battle at times. The older two are beginning to talk back, roll their eyes, and other classic signs of impending teenage-hood. However, I was a teenager once too, and if I stop long enough to remind myself of that, I can take a deep breathe and continue on with love and faith, that if God can bring me here, He will surely have His hand on my children.

My prayer for you as fellow parents, is that you can focus on the cross. That you can get your children to focus on the cross. Make time to do a daily devotional together– we read ours while we are on the way to school. Eat dinner together as a family, say a prayer before you eat and let your children say 3 things they are thankful for. Focus on the blessings. Children are selfish, it’s OUR JOB to bring their focus outwards. Serve, as a family, at a soup kitchen, or the food distribution at FUMC, and always, always, focus on the cross.

Pray for me too,

Stacey

KIDS NEWS

Christmas Pageant—December 14 at 5 pm., followed by a dinner provided, and served by the Youth Group. It will be directed by Stacey Fiegel, with music led by Alexis Rodriguez. Tickets or free will offering will be given to raise money for our Children’s and Youth Ministries.

Confirmation Classes will start in January 2014 for all middle school aged youth. If you would like to sign up, please contact Pastor Larry or Stacey Fiegel.

SERIOUS fund-raising will start in the new year for all of our summer camp adventures! If you want to go to summer camp, YOU MUST PARTAKE IN THESE FUNDRAISING EVENTS! Each child./youth will have an account, per se, that we will track the funds they have “raised” for their camp scholarships. Please contact Stacey or Clay if you are interested!

We only have three WOW’s this month and then we are on break until January 15, 2014! We are sad, but this Fall semester has been a good one! Thank you to all who have helped cook and clean and teach!
You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill cannot be hidden.” Matthew 5:14

We live in a world of contradictions. Where reality television is lacking “reality”, and professional sports are lacking “sport”. Sometimes I fear that we find ourselves, the Christians, in a similar contradiction.

Some of the themes of the Epistles (those little books at the end of the bible) is the idea of Gnosticism. Gnosticism is a combination of Greek thought and Christian thought. In a broader sense it is the thought that the body is bad and the spirit is good. These idea’s and themes would create a misled sense of “spirituality”, “justice”, and “biblical” motives to live by.

Gnosticism is very alive and well in our culture and church culture. Gnosticism is, in my opinion, when the view of one God, our God, is combined with the foundation of Greek thought and the promise of Christian hope, or a Christian like hope. One specific non-Christian example of Gnosticism in our culture is the “New Age Spirituality” movement, where the point is to escape. This is often done by transcendental meditation, where God is thought to be out somewhere away from the body and this dimension. The Christian example of Gnosticism, is when the point of a Christian life is the achievement of gaining access to heaven or “going to heaven” when one dies.

When Nietzsche criticized the Christian religion, he complained that it pointed nature to “other worldliness” and it’s desire to escape the current world. More currently, Brian McLaren said the American church only teaches “hell avoidance plans”. The irony for me is that these critiques are very similar to the warnings in scripture. We must not be focused solely on spiritual things and ignore earthly things. And more accurately scripture spends more time about physical things than spiritual things. Because if so, we miss the “Christian” part of spirituality. The point is to be “in the world, but not of it” Romans 12:2, “Do not conform to the patterns of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God’s will is His good, pleasing and perfect will.”

I will remind us that the term “Christian” means little Christ. Christ also means Messiah. These words refer to a man. He lived, died, rose, and is coming back again. Saying you are a Christian is like saying you are a “little Jesus”. You see, heaven is important, but it is not the end Jesus preached of a kingdom that is here now, and, is coming. So, if our Christian spirituality is to truly be Christian then it must be like Jesus Christ’s spiritual life and teachings. Jesus did speak a lot about hell, but he also spoke a lot about caring for each other on the earth.

If our focus of teaching Jesus is simply to stop people from going to hell, then our spirituality is not much like that of Jesus. If our focus of teaching Jesus is simply to feed and take care of others, it is also not much like that of Jesus. We must do both parts, be the “hands and feet” of Christ and lead people to the cross with our love and witness. Let us pray that we teach the same way Jesus did, especially about the eternal things in the world.

In Christ,
Clay
Hello everyone. I’d like to take a few minutes of your time to talk about Stephen Ministry.

When Stephen Ministry began at FUMC Beeville in 2012, we set a goal at that time to have our first Stephen Ministry Team trained and commissioned by July, 2013. Our goal has been achieved, and we are busy at work!

It is now time for Stephen Ministry to begin recruiting its second class of Stephen Ministers to begin training in January, 2014. We are now accepting applications, and would like to have all of the applications in hand by the end of the first week in December. We will need at least four trainees to begin our 2014 class, but would prefer to have six trainees, as that number is a little more compatible with the training materials.

We have all been through times in our lives when we faced tragedy, illness, grief, or deep sadness. Some of us were blessed during those times to have someone, a friend or a family member, come beside us and say, “We’re going to walk through this together. I’ll be here for you”. We had someone that we could say all those things to that we needed to say, someone to care for us, pray with us, love us, and encourage us. If you had someone like that in your life during a difficult time, why not consider “paying it forward”. Fill out an application to be a Stephen Minister, and be a blessing to someone else who is going through a difficult experience in their lives. Give a minimum of an hour of your time a week to lend a compassionate ear to someone, care for them, pray with them, show them the love of Jesus Christ, assure them that life is still worth living and they are worthy in the eyes of God.

Some of us went through difficulties in our lives, and were not fortunate enough to have someone walk beside us, and we were lonely, frightened, anxious, and frustrated, and didn’t know whether we were going to make it. If you were that person, I would encourage you to fill out an application to become a Stephen Minister. God will not only bless you, but you can give the gift of Christian love and care to other people struggling through serious life situations so they don’t have to be lonely and afraid like you were.

God has provided this congregation with a wide open door of opportunity to reach out, not only to members of our own congregation who need care, but to our community as well. Those of you who have participated in The Table, Food Distribution, or volunteered in the Welcome Center know that there are people in our community who walk through the doors of this church almost every day who have needs that go beyond the physical need for food. And there is not much available in this community to meet their needs. This church can provide Stephen Ministers who can be the hands and feet of Jesus Christ and meet those needs.

If God has been speaking to you, or if you have been sitting on the fence about whether or not to fill out an application for Stephen Ministry, I ask that you consider picking up an application in the Welcome Center, from me, or from Marlo Swint or one of our Stephen Ministers. If you have any questions, any of us will be glad to visit with you at your convenience. You may take the application home with you, fill it out, and we would ask that you return it to a Welcome Center volunteer or to your Stephen Leaders or Stephen Ministers in a sealed envelope as soon as possible. I promise you that you will never regret making that decision.

God bless you all.

You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill cannot be hidden.” Matthew 5:14
Dear Church Family,

I wanted to thank your church for such a warm welcome. This past weekend I came with my daughter and her 8 month old son and my sister to keep my son (Matthew Singleton) and his wife’s 2 children while they went out of town for the weekend. Friday we looked for something to do and found out about your pumpkin patch, when we went to pay for our pumpkins a very nice man told us about the parade and also invited us back to the church following the parade.

We had so much fun with the children at the parade and then we received such a warm welcome to have lunch, face painting, jumpy house, balloons, the little ones were just beside themselves with joy.

They had so much fun and it touched my heart enjoying this day with them. I just had to thank you for telling us about the parade and for inviting us to join y’all for lunch and all the activities. Your act of kindness to a group that you had never met before was more appreciated that you will ever know.

Love and prayers,
Lydia Singleton

My wife and I were eating at a restaurant in San Antonio and we noticed a small group of people praying which is something that is not common in this day and time. We as well make it our practice to offer thanks while dining. This group left before us and when we asked for our bill the waitress that waited on us gave us this card and said that our bill had been paid for. How grateful we were for the act of love from a fellow human.

I never intended to let this go unnoticed although I misplaced the card that was given to us. This week I found it and was determined to take a moment to express my gratitude for your act of loving kindness. In thinking about what the scriptures say about kindness I was reflecting on this thought and realized that the greatest act of undeserved kindness was when Jehovah gave his son as a ransom for us as sinners leaving us with the hope of everlasting life. My wife and I look forward to the promise as shown in Psalms 37.

Again we thank your group for the not forgotten kindness you showed toward us.

With Christian love,

As I walked to my car in the parking lot across the street yesterday, I noticed a man taking pictures of the front of the church. Since my car was almost the only car left there, although I could not see him well enough to identify him, I did nod and went on toward my car. He came toward me with his hand out and said he was Dick Young from the Texas Methodist Foundation who had led us in the capital campaign for the Welcome Center. After that he had been assigned to the Northwest Texas Conference and had never seen our completed building.

I asked if he would like to see the interior and took him over for a brief tour. He was quite interested in how we used the building, as individuals, families and community groups. As a result we have become aware of new needs and consequently new mission programs. Then he said, it is a gathering place. It is, I said, different people gather and go into small group studies, meetings, etc., or they may remain in the Welcome Center itself. However, it is also a launching place; those who enter for prayer and study, for food, for spiritual support, may be launched into the community with a new or improved understanding of God's love and call in their lives; they share that with others.

I also told him that the ADA restrooms, elevator and ramps were being used as planned. Also I walked with him along the enclosed breezeway and pointed out how much we all loved this area. I talked about the prayer garden, the community garden and the just-dismantled pumpkin patch. I did say that we had some current difficulties with increased budget demands, but that I felt this was temporary and could be resolved soon.

I believe that he felt joy in seeing that his assistance in having a successful capital campaign had led to an expanded mission outreach and sharing of God's love in this community. That is rewarding for him as it is for us.
