GOING

We will help you GO by:

Providing personal relational evangelistic training

Knowing how to relate with people in an authentic way is the key to personal faith sharing.

Assisting you to identify your unique gifting and calling

Who are you really and how are you wired?

Helping prepare you for where you go

What kind of issues will you face if you go and do mission and will others understand what is motivating you?

Teaching the identifying characteristics of those who go

The church in Antioch had ten compelling characteristics which we need to emulate if we want to be effective when we go.

Helping where possible to resource those who go

This could involve giving practical advice, loaning church equipment, providing meeting rooms, or giving advice on how to raise finances.

agents of change transforming lives

Goers are those at Catalyst who are in the action, actively sharing God's love and grace to those around them, wherever they are.

Why Go? When Jesus said GO it was the last command He gave us (Matt 28:19). This isn't a choice, but a command and one which will enrich and mature our relationship with God when we follow it.
