What is DNOW?

DNOW is a weekend dedicated to the discipleship of our students. This year our church is partnering with several churches from the Baton Rouge area for this event. Our normal Wednesday night services on March 2nd will prepare us for DNOW Weekend. Students will spend Friday night and all day Saturday in various activities. There will be three main sessions which include worship led by the Chuck Hooten Band. After worship our DNOW speaker, Jason Curry, will bring a message. Students will also have the opportunity for further discipleship in three small group sessions led by college students in our host homes. On Saturday students will have the opportunity to serve in our community doing several mission projects. DNOW weekend will conclude on Sunday morning. Students will attend the 9:15 service as normal and will have a special Bible study at 10:30.

Host Homes

For DNOW weekend students will spend Friday and Saturday night in four host homes. Host homes are divided by age and gender as follows: middle school boys, middle school girls, high school boys, and high school girls. Here is a list of our host homes this year:

Special Pick-up and Drop-off

Due to busy schedules and conflicts, there are a number of our students who will be being picked up and dropped off throughout the weekend. It is the responsibility of the parent who is picking up and dropping off their child to text Jeff, Stephanie, and Emily each time when picking up AND dropping off. This is for the safety of your children. Thank you!
