Excited about Guest & Revival

I'm really excited about the number of Guest we had this past Sunday. You did a good job of inviting people and greeting them. I know some of your guest didn't show up. That is ok. That just means you get to invite them again. Somebody said we should do this again later in the Fall. How about we do this EVERY week?

Yes, it is exciting to have Guest in our services. I enjoyed sending notes to our Guest on Monday morning. I got to visit with a family in Stanford until about 8:00 PM on Monday night and so enjoyed getting to know them. They moved here from North Carolina and really enjoyed attending our service. God is on the move. Let's be intentional about inviting our friends, relatives, associates and neighbors. We know that many of them will come if we invite them. So, who can you invite this next week???

I'm also looking forward to our revival services. I know that Bro. Barry has sought the Lord in prayer as to what he should share with us from God's Word. As I mentioned Sunday, the church needs revival before we can expect to have an impact on our community, our country, and the lost. I've been thinking a lot about the courage of Caleb. Even in his old age, he had much confidence in God. With God's help, Caleb was willing to battle, face the giants, and claim his inheritance. I want to live my life with confidence in God's promises and power and with the courage to live out my faith.

I yearn to see a spiritual awakening in our land. There seems to be so much division and hatred all around us. Maybe when times get dark, the light of the Gospel might be seen most clearly. Hopefully people are recognizing that the government isn't going to fix our problems. People need the Gospel. We have the best news in the world and we must do all that we can to share the good news of Christ with those around us. There are no giants greater than our God.

Let's pray for God to send revival to Lancaster Baptist. A revival that brings a passion to reach the lost. A revival that grows our love for one another. A revival that emboldens us to share the gospel. A revival that emboldens students to share Christ in their schools. A revival that encourages us to pursue holiness. A revival that calls us back to God's Word and prayer. (How much time have you spent with the Lord today?)

So, revival services start on Sunday. Will you pray for God to use these services in your life? Will you pray for God's presence to be here in power? Will you pray for God to use these few days to accomplish what He knows we need as a church? Will you pray for God to stir our passions for reaching our community? Will you pray for God to be glorified and lives to be changed?

I hope you will spend a little extra time in prayer (maybe fasting) to prepare your heart for what God wants to do in your life. I hope you are planning to be here every service to hear from the Lord. May God hear our prayers and send revival! To God be all the glory!
Bro Harold
