

When should I give to the Endowment Fund?

You can make a gift at any time. There are many occasions in our lives that cause us to reflect with gratitude upon God's blessings. Permanent gifts can be made to honor birthdays, anniversaries or the memory of someone we cherish. Gifts can be made to celebrate major accomplishments, retirement or a bountiful year. Gifts may also be made to take effect upon death; through wills or by making the fund the beneficiary of certain assets such as an IRA or insurance policy.

LPPC Endowment Fund

What is the Endowment Fund?

A program established to help members and friends of LPPC ensure the further advancement of its mission by the devotion of material resources through gifts and bequests.

How is it managed?

The fund's trustees, composed of four members elected by the congregation and one active elder selected by the session, manage the fund. Our pastor serves as an advisor to the trustees.

What is the difference between the fund and other gifts & memorials?

Special gifts and memorials are generally given for a specific purpose or to commemorate a special event. Usually, the donors of these gifts expect them to be spent in their entirety within a short period of time. Conversely, the principal amount in the endowment fund will be maintained forever as a lasting legacy of faith. Only the fund's income is used so contributions to the fund will be the foundation for its growth to ensure it provides support for future generations at LPPC.

How does it work?

The trustees are responsible for managing the fund. Preserving initial contributions is of major importance. The fund's assets will be invested in a moderately-conservative portfolio of socially responsible investments that balance the goals of short-term income and long-term growth.

Income from the fund will be used to support the religious, charitable and education mission of LPPC through special expenditures that are not included in our annual budget.

Non-cash gifts will be converted to cash so their value may be used for the generation of income.

What difference does it make?

There are many ways the fund's income may be used. Among them:

- Seed money for new programs
- Special programs for children, youth and adults
- Extra mission initiatives
- Seed money for new staff
- Innovative community outreach
