One restaurant says, "Come Hungry, Leave Happy". The last time I was at a buffet I noticed that there are generally two types of people. First, there is the dieters plate filled with string beans, grilled chicken, and mixed vegetables. The other guy's plate is filled three times over. Even if he's already had half a week's calories, he decides to go for two rounds of dessert. Both people pay the same price, their admission has been purchased. Jesus on the cross paid the admission for all who receive to enter His presence. We can't earn it, no one is more deserving than another. Jesus paid, and you are invited in! If we come hungry daily before the Word of God, and in worship, we will leave His presence happy! Yet, the question remains, "how much will you eat? Are ya hungry? Really hungry?" As you go before God daily, and as you join with other believers weekly I want to encourage you to spiritually pile it on, and get your fill! I have noticed that when I am really hungry the food always tastes so much better. Our level of hunger directly impacts the quantity and the quality of how much we will draw out from God's presence. The buffet is open, the admission is paid. So, are ya hungry? If you are hungry, I know you'll leave God's presence and God's house happy!

"So let us come boldly to the throne of our gracious God. There we will receive his mercy, and we will find grace to help us when we need it most."

- Hebrews 4:16
