Imagine a good friend came to you and said "I want to start a brand new business and I'm giving you the opportunity to get in on this before we hit it big time". That sounds very exciting and enticing, so your response would likely be "tell me more". Then comes the big idea as your friend says "I'm about to launch a communications company specializing in land lines and dialup internet". Say what? These two items were listed in a Huffington Post news article naming twelve items that were moving toward becoming obsolete in the last decade of 2000 to 2010. Culture is always changing, but what is the real driver behind culture, and how does it affect you? More importantly what impact do we have culture? With our evolving culture it is increasingly more difficult for people to find the truth of God that sets people free. How do we share faith in a pluralistic society?

Congressman Willard Vandiver in 1899, declared "I come from a state that raises corn and cotton, cockleburs and Democrats, and frothy eloquence neither convinces nor satisfies me. I'm from Missouri, and you have got to show me." Eventually Missouri became known as the 'Show Me' state. The people we want to reach are looking for us to show them what is most important to us, what are we passionate about, and how our salvation found in Christ changes our lives. As our culture is increasingly shaped by a flood of information, people are seeking what is real and genuine, not mere eloquence. Today, show others the power and love of Jesus!

"Your love for one another will prove to the world that you are my disciples."
