SROWVER NIGHT:

Allen Hall echoed with the sound of conversation, roll calls and dance counts as this year's SROWlympic team shuffled in and out of classrooms, prepping for our trip to East Carolina State University. It felt like we had just taken our spot on the starting line for the 4 x 100 meter relay race, and with the thunderous "bang" of the starter pistol we were off and running.

The hours were long, but the opportunity to grow closer as a committee and work together was such an incredible experience. Whether we were planning presentations or listening as Elise "whipped" us into shape with her dance routine (pun intended) our enthusiasm never wavered. Each activity helped us learn more about one another and helped to dispel any fears we may have had going into SROW. I left feeling so excited and on fire about everything that we were doing, like I was harboring my own personal Olympic torch. I am so excited to see all that LSU will accomplish this year.

"An experience I greatly appreciated, there is nothing like growing a deeper bond with people you hold so many great memories with! Drake and Waite are doing an awesome job."

GIRLS GONE GLASGEAUX!

This past semester was definitely one we will never forget! We spent four months studying at the University of Strathclyde in Glasgow, Scotland braving the British weather, cobblestone roads and language barriers (Yes, there are still language barriers even when the national language is English). I don't think either one of us realized how much we would gain from such an incredible experience, but we left with a lot more than just knowledge of British history. We made lifelong friendships with people from all over the world, and we had the opportunity to travel throughout the United Kingdom and a few places in Europe. Living in the middle of Glasgow was definitely different than both of our hometowns, but we were able to adjust to the city living quite easily and made Glasgow our home away from home. We had such an incredible time all semester long, but it's impossible for us to sum it all up in this one paragraph. Shameless plug Check out our blog if you want to know more about our crazy (and not so crazy) adventures abroad. We are both beyond thankful to LSU for offering such an incredible opportunity, and we want everyone to GEAUX

ABROAD!

Cheers,

Sydney and Hannah
