

Matching Faith

Text: Luke 17:5-6

Three words — three little words — reflecting three qualities that Paul says will _____ for all eternity. Faith, Hope and Love. Ref: 1st Cor. 13:13

You don't need more faith. You just need congruent (corresponding) faith. You need to learn to _____ the faith that you already have been given.

In Romans 12:3 Paul says that we (believers) have each been given a measure of faith. So, if you are a believer, you already have faith. The question is, how do you use it?

You need to _____ in your faith, as in: learn to how to _____ the _____ you've already been given, and put it into practice.

Two Right Choices:

1. You need to choose the right side.

Every day you're faced with a choice: Do I believe this problem is all-powerful, or do I believe that God is all-powerful?

Which side will I choose?

It's not that any of us needs more faith. We just need to put our faith in the _____.

Putting your faith into practice means that you make a deliberate decision to choose one side over the other, one world-view over the other, one set of values over the other.

2. You need to choose the right words.

The words you speak _____, especially when it comes to faith.

Jesus said if you believe it in your heart and if you speak it out loud, you will have what you say. Ref: Mark 11:23 KJV

You can't talk defeat all day every day and expect to experience _____.

What you say matters, so make it a point to speak words of faith — even directly at the problem you're facing. Ref: 1st Samuel 17:45-47

It's time to speak God's Word into the situation. It's time to make the words you say congruent with the faith you proclaim.

Now, obviously there's more to living out your faith than just speaking words of faith — but I want you to know that there's never _____.

Mountain moving faith happens when your thoughts, your words, and your deeds line up with what you profess to _____.
