Happy New Year!

May this new year be a time of renewed joy, fresh starts, and new opportunities to praise the One who makes it all possible!

NPEA wishes to thank you for the blessings you shared with us this past year and look forward to many new blessings to come in 2020! As we start a new decade, let us reach out to more communities to plant churches and reach people for Jesus. Pray for the support and for church planters to hear the call to the northern plains.

As many of you know I worked for a phone company for 35 years, 26 of those years I was in management. Over the years I hired several employees and received resumes for those seeking employment every week. Many of those resumes included cover letters that said something to this effect, "After school I left for the big city, the bright lights, and big money, looking for that perfect job opportunity, but after several years I now realize I need to return to a job closer to my home or my family or my favorite part of this amazing country!" I hired many of these young workers who wanted something better for themselves and for their families and future families here in the rural areas of the northern plains. These families are now vital parts of their communities and are part of the reason we feel the need to reach this area for Jesus.

NPEA is looking for preachers who are willing to come to this mission field where Restoration churches are few and far between, to start churches and make disciples. Ministers with vision and a drive to make a difference to those they come in contact with.

Maybe you know someone who would like to come home, someone with a vision for the church, someone who may just be looking for something more. Invite them to come, tell them about NPEA, and that we have communities in need of Jesus for them to reach out to with Jesus' love. Or maybe you know a family member who is serving a church or going to college that is looking for their future home; maybe they could find their answer in serving Jesus here in the northern plains. I will be waiting for their resume. Welcome home!

Happy New Year, may it be joyous and bright!
