

Congratulations to Ms Carmen on her recent marriage!

As we get closer to the end of the school year, please remember to let us know what your plans are as far as attendance over the summer.

Just a reminder, when your child doesn't have preschool, the discount does not apply, and if you take your vacation week and pay half that needs to be paid before the week of vacation. All scheduling changes and known absences need to be communicated PLEASE. We like to be prepared and if there are children showing up, not showing up or showing up late that makes things harder to plan with staff, activities and meals.

Wanted: If you or any family member has a used cell phone or cordless phones that you are no longer using, please bring them in. The children LOVE to pretend with phones. Also any other electronic such as: laptops, cameras etc... I know they would love that also. Please remove any batteries.

When the weather starts warming up a little more we will be going outside in the afternoons. With the new door and security policy we will no longer be propping the back door open with a rock. You will have to come in, check your child out and collect their belongings and then carefully drive around to the playground. Sorry for the inconvenience, but it is for the safety of the children.

Proverbs 22:6 says, "Direct your children onto the right path, and when they are older, they will not leave it." On a daily here, at NLCDM, we strive to provide the most excellent care for your children. And part of that care we provide is spiritual care. We want to partner with you by instilling in their hearts the love of Jesus. Through our daily worship times your children are hearing stories from God's word, the Bible. They are learning about how the world was created, how to tell the difference between right and wrong, how to show love to others, how we need to treat others the way we want to be treated, and much, much more. Your children are also learning how to talk to God through prayer. Many of these things we take for granted as adults. We forget that our children not only need to hear these things, but more importantly, they need to see them lived out in our own lives. We are our children's most influential teachers. I urge you, as parents, to remember this. Our children are watching our every move, hearing our every word (Yes! They really are paying attention!! ☺), and noticing how we are make decisions. Proverbs 22:6 is an important reminder that we are to consistently be directing our children onto the right path. Sometimes it may seem difficult, but if we put our trust in the Lord, and allow Him to direct us, He will show us how to direct our children.

Happy Birthday!

Infant Newsletter

I hope everyone had a good Easter. I am going to work on the same sign language as last month (more & eat) The children are picking it up pretty well. Hopefully we will be getting some warmer weather this month so we can at least go outside for short walks. Please make sure we have shoe and jackets to put on them so the babies can stay warm. We will still be working on each child's personal goals and please feel free to let us know if there is something you'd like us to work on specifically.

Happy Spring!

Hopefully things will finally start to warm up! With the sunshine comes outside time, so please bring a coat, shoes and hat everyday. The children have been doing a wonderful job playing together=) I will continue to encourage group activities throughout the month.

Enjoy the weather!
Ms. Tessa

Okay, so we made it through March. I will be sending home a pamphlet this week that is focused on helping your children learn about Mathematics. In class we will still be working on number recognition. With summer approaching I feel it is an appropriate time to speak with the children on knowing who is a stranger and who you can trust if you find yourself in a situation where you may be separated or if they are with us on a field trip. I think it is very important for the children to be prepared for those types of situations and the better prepared they are the more likely they will react appropriately. Please let us know if there is something you'd like us to focus on with your child. Thank you=)

Onward into April we go. With yet another winter storm behind us, I'm sure spring will show it's colors soon.

The children were excited over spring break to be with some of their older school aged friends. It was nice to witness old friendships rekindle and new ones form.

This month we will be focusing on nature. With spring here I feel this is the perfect time to discuss nature, how the seasons change, what happens when spring arrives etc. We will be going outside from time to time so if you could please send them with a hat and gloves or if you have extra we can keep in their cubby that would be great.

We are still in need of photo's for our photo album. There are times throughout the your child's day, when they are having a difficult time or just miss mom or dad, having pictures available in the classroom helps them relax and regroup. They even help spark storytelling which helps with confidence and language and vocabulary.

If you have any questions or concerns please contact me or Mrs. Kim. Thank you
