

Church of the Living God
Winchester, KY

"Omega Church Consultants provided us with quality architecture, sound advice for building, and careful, watchful management of the project. Each of the areas of work they provided were less expensive than local architects and building managers. It also benefited our project that they are so experienced in church buildings and working with church boards and budgets. They understand the needs of the church unlike many commercial builders. We not only do recommend Omega, but will use them again."

- Rev. Thomas L. Hall, pastor of Church of the Living God
