

Family Praise Center Noblesville, IN

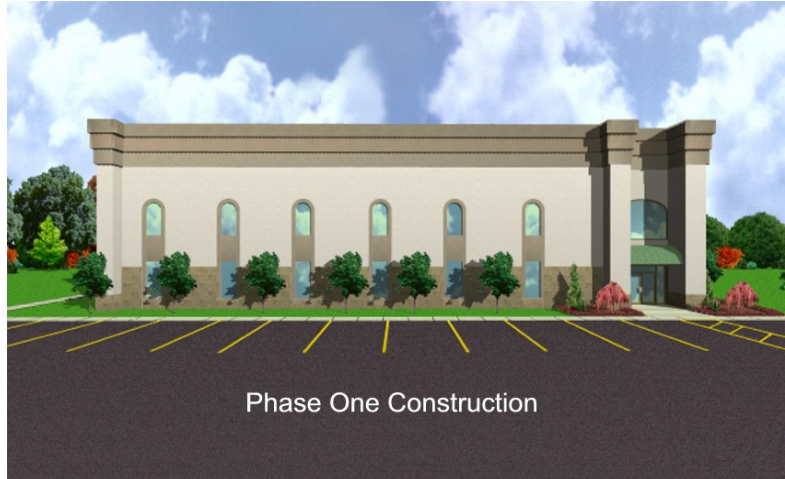

Family Praise Center has chosen Omega to provide consulting, fund raising materials, complete architectural design and construction management services for their new church.

The architectural plans were developed to allow construction in three distinct phases. Omega created a PowerPoint presentation for the church to use for demonstrating the proposed project to their congregation and community. The initial phase consisted of development of their 8.5 acre site including retention pond, new entry drive, utilities, parking lots and extensive landscaping. A 17,310 s.f. multi-purpose facility has been constructed first to serve as a worship center seating 450, as well as a day-care with kitchen, Sunday school, chapel, and offices.

The second phase of development will include a new 1,000 seat sanctuary, large two-story foyer, hospitality center, office suite, nursery, bookstore, library, evangelist quarters, and Sunday school classes. The third phase of development will mirror the second phase and will double the sanctuary to 2,000 seats. Classes and offices will be added, and additional parking areas will be developed.

"Greetings to the fine men at Omega Church Builders! I want you to know the appreciation in my heart and the hearts of the people of Family Praise Center for all the work and efforts towards our building project. Together we have worked diligently to make the vision God has given us a reality. It would be difficult for us to achieve what has been achieved were it not for your assistance. Throughout these tough decision times it has been reassuring to know that Kent and Jeff Thomas have been a wealth of knowledge all the way. I am glad to testify of your commitment and passion to see the operation run as smoothly as possible. Thank you Omega. I am anxious and excited to continue pressing forward. Keep leading us in the right direction."
