

Southwest Apostolic Church
Indianapolis, IN

Omega provided planning and design services for two separate expansion projects during the past ten years. The first phase included a sanctuary addition and parking lot expansion to an existing residential structure where the congregation was holding its services. The second phase is a multi-purpose building addition that includes a recreation/fellowship hall that can be divided into three large classrooms, a new commercial kitchen, new foyer and carport, new offices and restrooms and more parking.

"This is a letter of sincere appreciation for the way that Omega Church Consultants has helped our church during two separate building phases.

The expertise of Omega in the complexities of Church construction has caused our building programs to move smoothly in the right direction both times. First the sanctuary and now the addition of restrooms, offices, vestibule, kitchen, and multi-purpose rooms for Sunday School.

It has certainly been a refreshing and pleasant experience working with Mr. Jeff Thomas of Omega. We were remarkably pleased at Omega's level of knowledge, ability, and experience in every aspect of Church planning and implementation, from conceptual planning, zoning, building codes, and just knowing 'how to do it'.

The way Omega has worked closely with the church to plan and build for present needs with future expansion accommodations in mind was exceptionally excellent.

We highly recommend Omega Church Consultants, and 'We thank them for a good job well done'."

- Rev. Floyd E. Matthews, Sr., pastor of Southwest Apostolic Church

Omega Church Consultants, Inc.

Church Design & Build

Church Construction

Church Building