

On the Road

based on Acts 8:26-40

One day an angel from God told Philip, "Go on the road that leads to Gaza." So Philip did!

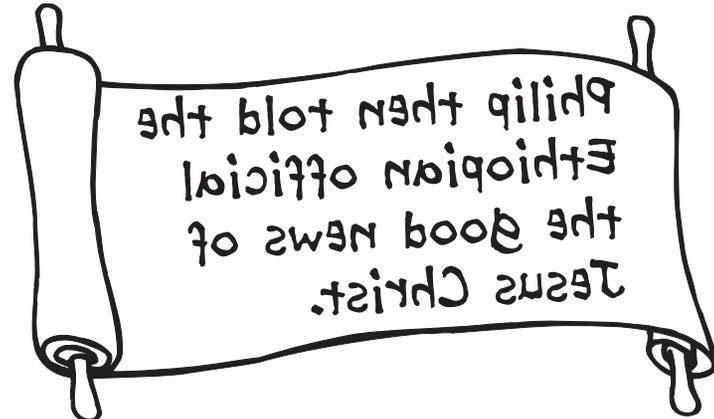

That very day, an official from the country of Ethiopia was traveling on that same road. Philip ran over to the carriage and heard the Ethiopian official reading from a scroll of the prophet Isaiah. "Do you understand what you are reading?" Philip asked.

"How can I?" the man replied. "I have no one to teach me. Come sit with me."

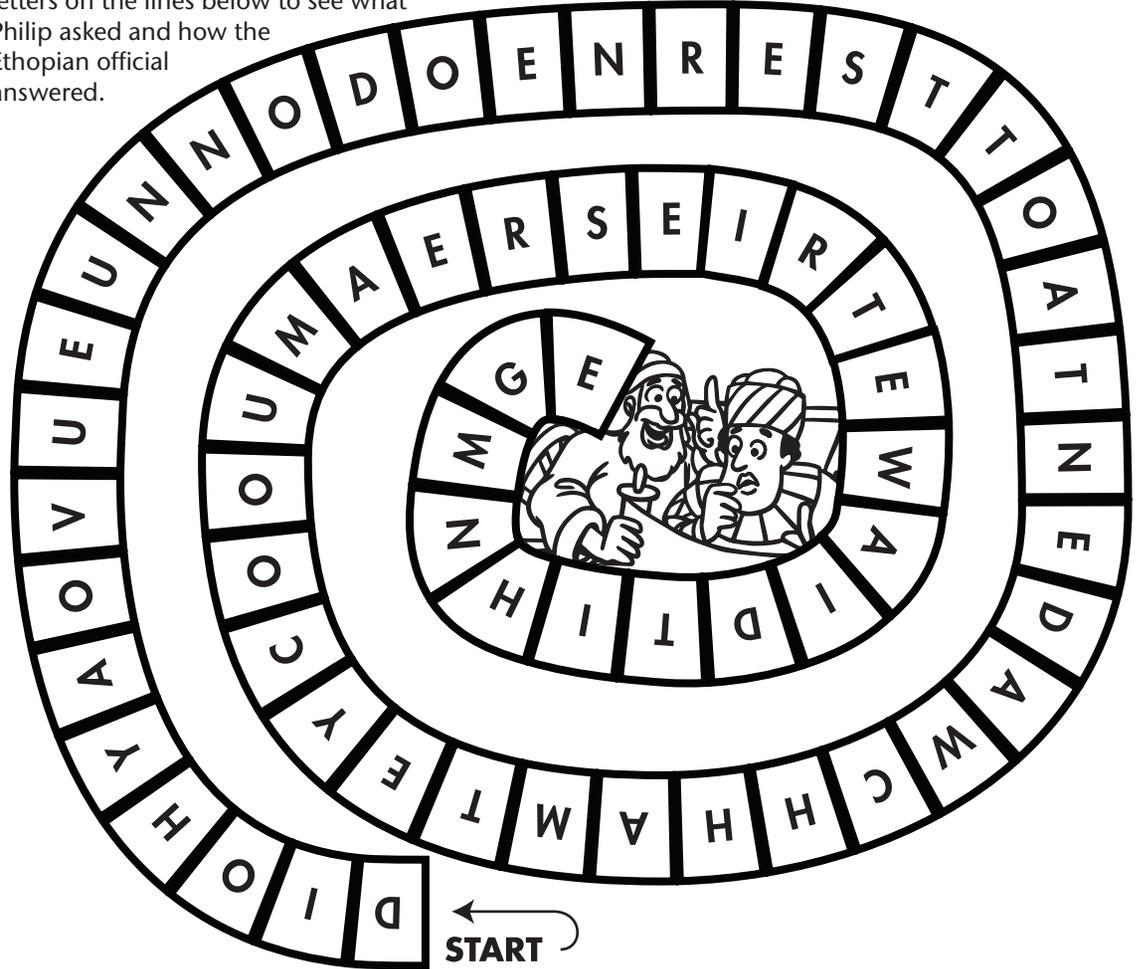

The Ethiopian official read: "Like a sheep he was led to the slaughter." He asked, "What person are these words talking about?" Philip then told him the good news of Jesus Christ.

When they came to some water, the Ethiopian asked, "Why can't I be baptized here?" So Philip baptized him. In an instant, the Spirit whisked Philip away to Azotus to teach other people about Jesus. The Ethiopian never saw him again.

The Ethiopian official had a hard time understanding the scroll. Can you figure out what this scroll says?

Beginning at "D," write every other letter on the lines below. Cross out the letters as you use them. When you get to the end of the third line, start at the beginning and write each of the remaining letters on the lines below to see what Philip asked and how the Ethiopian official answered.
