Genesis 9:8-17

To Know God Who Keeps Promises

Have you ever started drawing or coloring a picture, or building something with Legos or wood; then you realize you've messed up. So you wad up the paper or take everything apart and start over again.

God did something like that once.

People had become so mean, destructive, angry, and evil all the time that God decided he needed to start the world over again. So he cleaned off the world with a LOT of water, a whole flood, in fact. The only people or animals who survived were Noah's family and the animals on the ark.

Afterwards, God promised that He would never do anything like that again. For a sign, He put rainbows in the sky as a sign of his promise that all rainstorms would end.

In fact, He began a different kind of plan. He would clean up the world from the inside of peoples' hearts out. Then He would ask us to join Him in His new plan to fix what sin had broken.

Sunday Read Genesis 9:8-17 God promised to never flood the whole world again. Have you ever wondered, "what about all the people who never heard about Jesus? Can they ever go to heaven, too?" What do these verses say?

Memory Verse: Genesis 9:17

Then God said to Noah, "Yes, this rainbow is the sign of the covenant I am confirming with all the creatures on earth."
