HAPPY★NEW★YEAR

As we move into 2019, I'd like to pause for a moment to reflect on a few of the precious moments of December. My favorite would be our Family Chapel Christmas program. In this general state of loosely controlled chaos it is easy to lose sight of the point of the program. Our goal is not to have the best show ever, we'll leave that to the professionals, although, I think we are keeping up with the paparazzi in the photography department. ☺ Our goal is to teach the children, through active participation, the story of Jesus' birth.

Through the retelling of Jesus' birth with our simple props and costumes, I pray the seeds of faith will be planted and nourished in the heart of all who hear the story. As we begin a new year I look forward to learning from and participating in another "chapter" of Jesus' never ending love story. A story He invites each of us to participate in daily.

Blessings in this wonderful New Year!

Julie

Healthy Foods

January's theme is "I can Keep me Healthy" During the month the children will learn about eating healthy foods. Snack time and lunch time are great times to practice these healthy habits. Introducing children to a wide variety of food at a young age helps to establish good eating habits as they grow.

School Pictures

Freestyle Photos will be at OPPC Preschool to take school photos

Wednesday, February 20th for the children in the Sunshine, Bumblebee and Rainbow classes. Thursday, February 21st the Dolphin and Seahorse classes will be photographed. If you have a child in the VPK class and one in a younger class both children will be photographed on Wednesday, 20th

SAVE THE DATE

You're invited to join Coach Sally and your child's class for Exercise for Your Heart Day. We will be exercising together Wednesday, Feb. 13th, for the Sunshine, Bumblebees, and Rainbow classes, and Friday, February 15th for both VPK classes. Specific times will be posted soon. We're looking forward to you joining us for an invigorating morning. ☺
