

ROBIN ROSENCRANTZ is Senior Corporate Counsel for Nordstrom, Inc. In her role, Robin advises and defends Nordstrom on a variety of employment-related matters and manages outside employment litigation. Before joining Nordstrom in 2002, Robin was previously an associate at Foster Pepper PLLC, and was named a Washington “Rising Star” in Super Lawyers Magazine. Robin was admitted to the Washington State Bar in 1995. Before that, she received her J.D. from the Georgetown University Law Center. While at Georgetown, Robin was a staff member of the Georgetown Journal of Legal Ethics and recognized for her published note about expanding an attorney’s role in child abuse reporting. She also interned for the Public Defender and participated in a legal clinic at Georgetown helping victims of domestic violence. Robin received her B.A. from Tufts University, cum laude, and interned at the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination while studying in Boston. Robin also worked in Washington, D.C. for the U.S. Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor, Health & Human Services, and Education as a Legislative Analyst.