Dear Friends,

This Easter season, I have been thinking about the resurrection of Jesus and what it means for us 2000 years later. Additionally, I've been considering the evidence for Jesus' resurrection having happened. We don't have any eyewitness accounts in the Scriptures of Jesus' actual rising from the dead. But we do have the empty tomb, the testimony of the women who encountered the angel there, and the apostle's accounts of the Risen Jesus appearing to them. Of all the post-Resurrection stories, I think the one from today's gospel is the one I love the most: the barbecue on the beach after an eleventh-hour reprieve from a night's fishing that yielded nothing, and the opportunity for Peter to repent of his threefold denial by declaring his love for the Lord three timesⁱ.

The instructions (feed my lambs) that follow Peter's expressions of love are meant for us, too, and that leads me to what I think may be the most convincing evidence for Jesus' resurrection: the vibrant, loving Church, of which we are all a part, still ministering today, feeding the Lord's lambs, with the help of the Holy Spirit.

Still, one cannot deny that there is evil in the world, even within the Church, and that can be discouraging, perhaps obscuring the truth of the Church as the Risen Christ's Body. The fourth verse of Bob Hurd's "Two Were Bound for Emmaus" that we are singing at liturgy today may be helpful:

When the road makes us weary, when our labor seems but loss, when the fire of faith weakens and too high seems the cost,
let the Church turn to its risen Lord, who for us bore the cross, and we'll find our hearts burning at the sound of his voiceⁱⁱ.

How do we turn to the risen Lord? In Scripture, in sacrament, and in service: if we feed his lambs, we will find him.

Siempre Adelante!

Reflecting on God's Word

When you compare the apostles before and after Jesus' death, you can see that not only did something special happen to Jesus at his resurrection, but a wonderful change took place in the apostles as well. Up until the death of Jesus, the apostles did not come off very well. When the chips were down, they ran.

But after the Lord has risen and appeared to them, we get a very different picture. In the Acts of the Apostles Luke gives us the most detailed description of what went on after the Holy Spirit descended upon this little community praying in the upper room.

The most obvious gift was courage, a word that has the same root as "heart." They were given a new heart. The Holy Spirit breathed new life into them and gave them a heart passionately in love with Christ, on fire to preach the gospel. And so they went to the heart of their city, the temple, and there they preached and taught about Jesus, witnessing to him as the Messiah, the Holy and Righteous One, the Author of Life.

They performed "many signs and wonders" (Acts 5:12), healing the sick and casting out unclean spirits. There they were arrested and taken to prison and beaten, only to return to the temple and do it all again, and be arrested again. Through all this they were joyful.

The philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche is remembered for saying that perhaps he would believe in our redeemer if we Christians looked a little more redeemed. Do you?

Becoming Catholic

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA)

Are you interested in learning more about the Catholic Church? It is our greatest joy, as well as our mission as a community, to welcome new members. The RCIA is a gradual process of formation for those interested in experiencing the Catholic faith. The process is designed for individuals who are seven years or older who are not baptized, those baptized in other Christian traditions, and adults who were baptized in the Catholic Church but never celebrated the sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist. It is a faith journey that encourages participants to broaden and deepen their prayer life, to know God through the scriptures, to come to know themselves more fully, and to participate more actively in parish life.

For more information, please contact Catherine Shadduck, Coordinator of Initiation, at (805)482-6417 ext 331 or catherineshadduck@padreserra.org.

When Jesus broke a piece of bread,
the disciples who were with him recognized him!

Count the loaves of bread on each tabletop.

Then draw a line from each group to the same number of shapes.
