Dear Friends,

Does this exhortation from the mysterious “men in white garments” mentioned in the first reading from Acts seem a bit brusque to you?

Men of Galilee, why are you standing there looking at the sky? This Jesus who has been taken up from you into heaven will return in the same way as you have seen him going into heaven.

I imagine that the apostles, still reeling from the events of Good Friday and Easter and overwhelmed with awe and wonder at the privilege of encountering Jesus in his post-resurrection appearances, might have been a bit startled when he was “lifted up, and a cloud took him from their sight.” Maybe you are like me: I sometimes need Jesus to be a bit more real, more definite, more substantive than the abstract idea of a savior who once walked the earth but is now in a place (it seems) I can’t get to him. Like the little kid who, upon waking from a nightmare, is told by a sleepy parent that God is watching over him. He responds that he needs “a God with skin on.” While the promise that he will return in the same way is comforting, still, it’s been a long time, and no one knows the day or the hour.

What I also infer here from the “why are you standing there looking at the sky” question is a strong implication that the apostles (and we!) should quit standing around and get to work building up the kingdom. We know what that meant for the apostles and we are the beneficiaries. But what does it mean for us? For me, it is a mystery that unfolds one day, sometimes one minute at a time. I know I am to minister Jesus Christ to those whose paths cross mine. I suspect that it is in ordinary life where the rubber really meets the road.

St Paul’s prayer and hope for the church of Ephesus (see the second reading) is a prayer for all of us who are trying to follow Jesus Christ:

May the eyes of your hearts be enlightened that you may know what is the hope that belongs to his call...

Jesus’ gift of the Holy Spirit is the answer to St. Paul’s prayer, and to all of our prayers for wisdom, courage and guidance. Confirmation, which we celebrated recently with our young people, is a celebration of the release of the gifts of the Holy Spirit which they (and we) received in baptism. It is by means of the Holy Spirit that Jesus fulfills his promise to the apostles and to us, made just before his ascension into heaven:

And behold, I am with you always, until the end of the age.

Protect the Children

How Old Does a Child Need to Be in Order to Stay Alone?

Do not assume that when your child understands what you are saying, he is ready to walk out the door by himself. Besides the fact that many states have laws against leaving children of certain ages alone (for example, younger than 12), experts say children should not be left by themselves until they are capable of fighting off an abductor or handling a crisis situation. Experts also say children do not have the mental maturity to cross busy streets by themselves until they are about 10 or 12 years old. Finally, parents who are certain their young children would never walk away with a stranger will be shocked to learn that studies show they probably will. Stay alert and vigilant, even if you believe your child is aware of possible dangers from others. For particular help, call the Archdiocese's Victims Assistance Ministry, (213) 637-7650.

Catholic Charities Serves Ventura County With Your Help!

Last week representatives from Catholic Charities shared with us their story in providing services to needy families, homeless individuals, vulnerable seniors and at risk children of Ventura County. The number of people seeking assistance at Catholic Charities continues to grow. The jobless rate remains high in Ventura County. People with low incomes are struggling for life's basic needs. Many who never dealt with poverty are now desperate for your help. Thanks to Father Patrick Mullen and Padre Serra parishioners for your on-going generosity and caring support. ### Retirement Fund for Archdiocesan Priests

Next weekend we are asked to give generously to support the Retirement Fund for Archdiocesan Priests. These individuals have committed their lives to serving the spiritual needs of our parish communities. In turn we owe it to them to ensure that they do not have to worry about their retirement years. This is a good opportunity to reflect on how the priests in your life have guided you, called forth your gifts, and provided spiritual guidance in your life. Envelopes are available in the narthex. Thank you for your generosity.
