A Lota' Lota' Looming Love!

Sounds like a song but persons at Lakin 1st Presbyterian Church gathered for three Sundays in November for one and a half hours and did a lot of looming. The outcome from these three mornings was 50 some beanies for babies born at Kearny County Hospital. Some loomers even took a loom & yarn home and have kept on looming. This ongoing mission has produced over 100 beanies for babies in the past 3 months. Births at Kearny County Hospital averages around 30 babies a month. Each beanie takes about an hour or less, if you are a fast loomer like Alan Peters. This mission is "Serving our Community by Connecting and Empowering all Generations". We may not know how the Holy Spirit is working, but we can be sure it is. The church gives a big thanks to all who loomed, and to the one person who has crocheted beanies for babies and to those who will continue to loom.

This ongoing project is fun and a way our congregation is connecting with Lakin and the surrounding communities.
