Planning Guide and Worksheet

Jesus said, “I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, so that where I am, there you may be also.”

John 14:3

Planning Faithfully, Choosing Wisely

There is perhaps no time when we most feel the need for God’s grace and comfort than when we experience the loss of a loved one. In the first days following a loved one’s death, the family makes an average of 200 decisions. During such an emotional, stressful and demanding time, plans that have been made in advance help lighten the load after death. If you've not made advance plans, this guide will be helpful to you as you make arrangements for services and burial of your loved one.

This guide is designed to:

- provide a tool for planning for the future when your life on this earth ends, and
- support and guide families making plans upon the death of a loved one.

This guide will walk you through a series of questions and your responses can be marked on the worksheet at the end. Prince of Peace's pastors are available to discuss any items with you. When you are finished, please share your worksheet with a family member or friend who will act on your behalf after your death. It would also be helpful to contact one of the pastors at Prince of Peace to share your worksheet so that it can be held in safekeeping for the future.

The Goal of the Christian Funeral/Memorial Service

As Christians, we not only mourn the loss of a loved one but we also celebrate their victory through Christ over death and the grave, giving thanks for the gift of eternal life that God promises us in baptism. The gathering of family and friends, who form a community of hope for a funeral/memorial service, is also a rich opportunity to celebrate the life of the deceased.

Christians view death as another step in our life as children of God. Yet, we also experience death as a time of loss when sorrow, grief, and bereavement are both natural and appropriate. These two truths inform the Lutheran funeral/memorial service and guide the church in its ministry to those who have lost a loved one to death. As we celebrate the life of the deceased and God’s promise of new life, often we find ourselves smiling through our tears.

Above all else, a funeral/memorial service is a time of worship dedicated to God. A funeral/memorial service should be comforting to those who mourn as well as bear witness to our faith in Jesus Christ. There, in God’s presence together, we witness to our faith in the communion of saints, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting.
Frequently Asked Questions:

What should I do when a loved one has died?
Please know that not only does the Lord of Life walk with you at this time, but also the community of faith known as Prince of Peace Lutheran Church also surrounds you with their love and prayers. Our pastors, staff and members are here to serve you and your family in this time of need.

Please call the church office or the designated pastor on call to inform them. Your second call should be to the mortuary of your choice to set up an appointment with their designated staff person for making all decisions that they handle — the final preparations of the deceased body, news releases, choice of casket or cremation urn, date, time and place of both the service and the final internment.

How do I schedule a funeral/memorial service at Prince of Peace?
Please contact the pastor you wish to preside at the service to both verify his schedule and the church calendar. Often this is one of the many details handled by the designated staff person at the mortuary you have selected.

What is the difference between a funeral and memorial service?
Simply put, at a funeral service the body of the deceased is present, whereas at a memorial service either the deceased's ashes or no remains are present. Both services provide an opportunity to proclaim God's death-defeating acts in Christ as we remember all that God has given us in the life of our loved one. Sometimes families prefer to have an internment with a casket or urn at the cemetery prior to a memorial service at the church.

How does the Church view cremation?
Cremation is an acceptable way for Christians to deal with one's earthly remains. The Scriptures tell us that we are formed "of the dust of the ground" (Genesis 2:7) and, after death, we shall return "again to dust." (Job 34:15)

If I choose cremation, do I need to secure the services of a mortuary?
We highly recommend working with a mortuary. Their professional staff will ease the strain upon family members by coordinating all the details and thus contributing to your wishes being carried out with dignity and honor. Even if cremation is your desire, a mortuary handles many details that are not taken care of by the church, the Pastor, or family members. Attempting to save money by not using a mortuary is likely to cause confusion and frustration at a time when you most need guidance and support.

Should I make pre-arrangements with a mortuary?
Making the decision to pre-arrange some aspects of your funeral/memorial and/or burial is helpful. An appointment with a mortuary in advance of death is a wise step to help you decide what you and your family need from the many services available. If you are a family member caring for a dying loved one, making an initial contact now with a mortuary can be very helpful and will lessen the decisions and demands you'll face upon death. The Prince of Peace Pastors are available to talk with you about the selection of a mortuary or to refer you to a mortuary they know well and hold in high regard.

Should I make pre-arrangements with a cemetery/memorial garden?
Yes. Not only is this extremely helpful but can save you money.

How soon after death does a funeral/memorial service take place?
Funeral services are generally held within three to five days following death, thereby allowing appropriate time for family members and friends to gather for the service. Memorial services can be held at any time. However, waiting for weeks or even months after a death will have a bearing on finding a sense of closure, and this will impact the grief work that follows the death of a loved one. Therefore, it is recommended that a memorial service be held within a few weeks after death.
Should I have the funeral/memorial service at Prince of Peace or at a mortuary?
This is entirely your choice. Most mortuaries have finely appointed chapels for funerals/memorial services.

What should I expect if I choose to have the funeral/memorial service at a mortuary?
If the service is to be held at the mortuary, they will handle all arrangements including the news releases, the biographical brochure, the service bulletin, flowers, and setting for the service in their chapel. Music is to be arranged with the assigned mortuary staff person, in consultation with your presiding pastor. The mortuary will normally handle all financial arrangements, including the honorarium for the presiding pastor.

What should I expect if I choose to have the funeral/memorial service at Prince of Peace?
Your presiding pastor will help you plan the details of the service including the order of service, music and service bulletins. In addition, the church staff can assist with planning an on-site reception. Often the pastor works closely with the assigned mortuary staff person on other details such as flowers, guest books and remembrance tables.

What is a visitation?
A visitation is an informal gathering for friends and family to express sympathy, view photographs/video tribute and say goodbye. Typically the body of the deceased is present, usually in an open casket. This can be a very important time in the grieving process.

May we have a visitation at the church the evening before the service, or must that take place at a mortuary?
While most visitations take place at the mortuary, it may take place at Prince of Peace the afternoon or evening before the service if there are no other events already scheduled in the sanctuary. In addition, a visitation time can be offered at the church prior to the service.

Who plans the reception following the funeral/memorial service?
If your reception is held at Prince of Peace, the church office staff can assist you in planning a reception for guests following the service. One option is an afternoon fellowship reception that would include coffee, tea, cookies, breads, etc. Another option is a light luncheon following a morning service.

The members of Prince of Peace are often available to assist in hosting a reception. There is a nominal charge to help cover the costs of the food and refreshments. You are also welcome to cater the reception. Please consult with the presiding pastor about your options and costs that may be incurred.

What if I desire to have memorials gifts directed to Prince of Peace or other organizations?
This is an honorable thing to do. Prince of Peace and any other organizations you choose are blessed when memorials are directed to support their ministries and missions. The mortuary will be happy to include any memorial designation(s) in the notices about the funeral service. All memorial gifts received by Prince of Peace will be directed to the Prince of Peace Foundation to support a future ministry.

How should I handle flowers for the service?
We can offer a recommendation for a florist, if desired. Flowers are an appropriate tribute in memory of a loved one. You may wish to request that people make a contribution to Prince of Peace or a charity of your choosing in lieu of flowers. You should plan to remove flowers from the sanctuary or the mortuary following the service, unless you make known your desire to leave the flowers for use in our ministry with shut-ins and our senior residents’ centers.
What is a service bulletin?
The church office staff will prepare a service bulletin (program) and have sufficient copies ready for the service. There is no fee for providing this bulletin. You may want a photograph of your loved one on the cover. A short biography or meaningful poem is often included on the back cover. Please provide these items at least three days prior to the service.

What types of remembrances can be included in a funeral/memorial service?
Remembrances of your loved one can take many forms. This includes setting up a “table of memories” in the narthex with photographs. You may desire to show a short video or DVD during the service or reception. Please make your desires known to your presiding pastor.

What fees are associated with a funeral/memorial service at Prince of Peace?
There are fees for the people involved in providing the worship service as well as those who prepare and clean up following the service and reception. There are no building rental fees for Prince of Peace members.

You may choose to have the mortuary write a check to Prince of Peace Lutheran Church for the total expenses incurred OR you may make a check payable directly to Prince of Peace Lutheran Church.
