CoreMachine & CoreMake

We use Laempes, too.

There is something really unique at LaempeReich in Trussville Alabama.

The CoreMachine

At LaempeReich, we sell core machines. With over 5,000 globally, it's profitable for a foundry to use Laempe machines. They're reliable. Laempe builds endurance into every machine. They work. At LaempeReich, a talented team of engineers, project managers, and a 24/7 parts and technical support team are all working for you when you buy a Laempe. Our team understands core machines and core making. We have millions in spare parts locally so you don't have to. It's the original CoreCenterSM that brings all the elements that make a core under a single controller — using new or existing vertical and/or horizontal tooling — with an easy conversion.

The CoreRoomSM

So when we decided to start a full supply core shop, we bought our own machines for the same reason that over 5,000 of you have. Like you, we needed to make a core better, faster, less expensively, more efficiently, and with +98% uptime. We make millions of cores each year at Laempe-Reich and hope you'll allow us to help you do the same.

We'd only use the best. You can too.
