Ecclesiastes 3:1 (KJV)

1 To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

Things just don’t happen when we want them to. They may not happen even when we’ve done all to plan it. But things do happen in God’s on time!

Just like the seasons throughout the year, nothing stays the same. Things change. Your situation will change. Your circle of friends will change. Your job/position will change. Your health will change. Your appearance will change. Your finances will change. Your cell phones will change. Its data plan and software will change. Your residence will change. Everything under heaven, purposed by God, will change but for your good. So you may be in a tough season of life right now, but remember winter becomes spring and spring becomes summer and summer becomes fall. Your season will change. It’s a matter of time. Just wait!
