The Will of the Father

We each have a Father, who is in heaven. He is a Father who is gentle, kind and compassionate. He desires our fellowship and our eternal salvation. That this is evident is seen by the fact that He gave us His only Son to die in our place that we might be redeemed to Him. In order that we might attain to that salvation He has also revealed to us His will concerning us. His will is His wish, His law, His plan for us. All mankind must live in compliance with that will if we hope to have that eternal salvation. In the Sermon on the Mount in Matthew 7:21-23 Jesus said, “21 "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father in heaven. 22 "Many will say to Me in that day, 'Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Your name, cast out demons in Your name, and done many wonders in Your name?' 23 "And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness!'” (NKJV)

The Father’s will can be known and must be known. His will is clearly revealed in the New Testament. In English the testament is a will but the Greek word used in the New Testament is diathaka meaning covenant, or agreement. As a covenant the New Testament reveals to us God’s will for us – what we need to do to receive what He has promised to us.

But we cannot do His will until we first of all know His will. If we do not know His will then we cannot distinguish between His will and the will of any man including our own will. Jesus said that “If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself” (John 7:17). Paul told Timothy to “Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth” (2 Tim. 2:15). The word that Paul uses as “study” means “to hasten to do a thing, to exert oneself, endeavor, give diligence” (W.E. Vine Expository Dictionary of New Testament Words, p. 311). Our newer translations render the latter part of this verse as “handling aright the word of truth.” The Greek here is orthotomeo. It is used in the Septuagint in Prov. 3:6 and 11:5 where the idea is to “cut a straight road.” Thus the idea being, “in the present case to the road of truth, which is to be made so straight that all deviations of heretics will be evident” (Donald Guthrie, p. 148). Thus “Timothy is to offer a solid discussion of the revealed facts of the gospel.” Once we know His will we are obligated to do His will. Jesus instructed His disciples to pray to God, “Thy will be done” (Mt. 6:10). Jesus, praying in the garden prior to His arrest, prayed, “Not my will, but thine, be done” (Luke 22:42). And again Jesus when He knew His time to depart this life was near, He told His disciples, “If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them” (Jn. 13:17). God’s will can be known and we must know God’s will. But once we know His will we must obey His will. Only then will we be blessed; only then will we be truly happy. May we all apply ourselves to a longer and deeper study of His will with the determination to do His will that we might glorify and please Him and be blessed ourselves.

THANK YOU

Dear Church members, Just a note to thank each of you for all the lovely cards, prayers and well wishes, both for my birthday and the unexpected death of my brother. Your visits and thoughtfulness have helped me so much! Please continue to pray for my family and myself, as we need your prayers so much. I miss you all so much and hope to be able to return to worship and be with you all soon!

I love and appreciate you all,

Anne Powell
