Living The Word

Reflections for MOST HOLY TRINITY
May 26, 2013

NEXT SUNDAY'S FOCUS: A GOD WHO DELIGHTS

The image of Divine Wisdom playing at Creation captures the joy God takes in this great work. This joy leads to the outpouring of grace called God's plan of salvation which continues to unfold in our own day. The life of the Trinity flows ever outward, embracing us and all Creation in communion.

FIRST READING

Before the earth was made, Wisdom was conceived (Proverbs 8:22-31).

In the earliest days of Israel, wisdom was a collection of simple folk sayings that taught one how to live the good life. This chapter was written later, after the Greeks had conquered the Middle East under Alexander the Great. People began to think of God in Greek terms, that God was far removed from everyday events. When this happened, the religious leaders realized that the people needed some way to know that God cared for them. They spoke of intermediaries who brought us

God's revelation and carried our prayers to God. These included God's glory, God's Spirit, and God's holiness. The greatest of these was Wisdom. Next week we hear a hymn of how she accompanied God on the day of Creation and served Him as an architect in His work. The idea of Wisdom gave the Israelites many of the concepts that would help them understand the Trinity when that idea was revealed.

SECOND READING

To God, through Christ, in love poured out through the Holy Spirit (Romans 5:1-5).

We have been justified through faith. Justification means that we are at peace with God. Jesus gave us the opportunity to find that peace through His death on the cross and resurrection. We must trust in Him. Yet, there is still suffering in our lives. Normally, suffering makes one feel abandoned. This is not the case for us, for we have received the gift of the Holy Spirit and the Spirit fills us with joy when we suffer (for we realize that God's love can be seen in us when we suffer with trust).

GOspel

Everything that the Father has is mine; the Spirit will take from what is mine and declare it to you (John 16:12-15).

This is a passage taken from the Last Supper discourse in the Gospel of John. It speaks of the role of the Holy Spirit (here called the Spirit of Truth but in other passages called the Paraclete) who would reveal the truth to the disciples (For there are truths about God and life that we cannot know through our own efforts). Furthermore, the Spirit reveals these things because the Spirit is obedient to the Father, even as Jesus was obedient to the Father when He died on the cross. There is no jealousy in the Trinity, but rather mutual respect and profound love.

Readings for the Week

May 20th-May 25th:

Mon.: Sir 1:1-10; Mk 9:14-29
Tues.: Sir 2:1-11; Mk 9:30-37
Wed.: Sir 4:11-19; Mk 10:38-45
Thurs.: Sir 5:1-8; Mk 9:41-50
Fri.: Sir 6:5-17; Mk 10:1-12
Sat.: Sir 17:1-15; Mk 10:13-16

God of Creation, You sent Your Son, to bring us fullness of life, leading us into communion with You through the Holy Spirit. May we be a source of delight for You, and be worthy of the Creation You have entrusted in our care.

our bodies. Reflect on those words. How often our familiarity with this action can become a rote gesture and a hurriedly mumbled phrase. The mystery of the Trinity is central to our faith. Our God is one yet three, three yet one. No matter which way you say it, the mystery doesn't become any more comprehensive or less baffling. At the heart of this mystery is the reality of our loving God who created our world and all the worlds beyond ours, who has given us generous access by the gift of faith in Jesus Christ, and who has poured Divine love into our hearts through the Holy Spirit, the first gift to us at Baptism. What can possibly make sense of this? I would hold up one phrase from these readings for meditation. Divine Wisdom speaks of herself as being the Lord's delight while Creation was taking place, playing before the Lord day by day. Then there is that beautiful conclusion when Wisdom says, "And I found delight in the human race." God's Wisdom delights in us! Can we return the favor?

REFLECTION

We begin and conclude most of our efforts to pray with the simple words "In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit." Many times a hurried gesture accompanies these words, touching forehead, chest, and each shoulder. But think for a moment about that gesture that makes a cross on our bodies, as it moves from mind to heart to the width of

FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR

LUKE DESCRIBES THE BESTOWING OF THE HOLY SPIRIT occurring on the feast of Pentecost. The Jewish tradition of Pentecost was the Feast of the Giving of the Law on Mount Sinai. According to the legend, a mighty wind turned to fire and a voice proclaimed the Law. In a further modification of this legend, the fire split into 70 tongues, corresponding to 70 nations of the world, to convey that the Law was proclaimed not only to Israel, but to all nations.

LUKE EXPLOITS THIS TRADITION. He, too, has the mighty wind and tongues of fire coming upon the group of disciples. But for Luke the universal proclamation was not that of the Law, but of the Good News — a proclamation that has undone the sentence of Babel and re-united the scattered nations.

IN THIS SUNDAY’S GOSPEL, John has the bestowing of the Holy Spirit occurring on Easter Day. Luke and John are saying the same thing: the risen Lord gives the gift of the Spirit, and inaugurates the mission of the Church. That they differ in their dating is due to theological concerns. Let us pray that the gifts of the Holy Spirit continue to enrich all of us.

LAST SATURDAY, 14 couples who will soon be married at our church, participated in a Wedding Workshop. They too need our prayers in their time of direct preparation for the Sacrament of Marriage. May the Holy Spirit strengthen their love and allow their union to be an outward sign of God’s love to all of us.

OUR FUTURE PASTOR, FR. BILL CORCORAN, attended our Finance Council meeting last Thursday. Fr. Corcoran was warmly welcomed. He shared with us his experiences as a pastor of St. Linus and his visions for his future pastorship at St. Elizabeth Seton. Let us pray for the gifts of the Holy Spirit for Fr. Bill during his transformation process.

God bless you,

Fr. Stan Kucza

PENTECOST SUNDAY

Reconcile Yourself To God And Others

A reflection from LIVING LITURGY
by Joyce Ann Zimmerman, C.P.P.S., Kathleen Harmon, S.N.D. de N., Christopher W. Conlon, S.M. and Catherine de Hueck Doherty,
Season of Mercy; Lent and Easter

THERE IS A TREMENDOUS LOVE AFFAIR GOING ON,
OF WHICH THE HOLY SPIRIT IS THE WITNESS.

For what were we created?
For a love affair with God!
For a oneness with God that nothing can break. For this the Holy Spirit has come. For this,
the symbol of the Wind is lifting us up. For this the symbol of Fire cleanses us and makes our soul
afire with love...

HERE CHRIST SAYS something fantastic that should send shivers down our spines, that we should hold in our hearts and never let go: "As the Father sends me, so I am sending you." He said it to the apostles, but what he says is meant for you and me.
And it means that we have to go.

WHOEVER WE ARE, OLD OR YOUNG, RICH OR POOR—
what is our real vocation? Whatever other vocations God might send us, the very essential vocation of the Christian is apostolic. An apostle is one who is sent by someone bigger than himself. That is you and me. It does not matter if we have any education. Nothing matters, because he has sent us, and he has said, "Open your mouth and I will speak." On the feast of Pentecost the Holy Spirit, Wind and Fire, came to teach us what to say. We must have no worries, no inferiority complexes, because we are God's.

AS MY FATHER SENDS ME, SO I AM SENDING YOU." To do what? To preach the Good News. The Good News is the incarnation, life, crucifixion, resurrection of Jesus Christ, and the affirmation of the new covenant: Love

THE WIND AND FIRE WITHIN

*"Whoever loves me will keep my word,
and my Father will love him,
and we will come to him and make our dwelling with him."*

— John 14:23b

your God with your whole heart,
your whole mind, your whole soul; and love your neighbor as yourself. He said, "By this you shall be known as my disciples:
that you love one another as I have loved you." So: "As my Father sent me, so I am sending you. Show them that you are my disciples. Love one another as I have loved you."

THE HOLY SPIRIT COMES AS FIRE AND WIND to cleanse the heart so there is no impediment
for God to pass through.

THE SPIRIT IS NOT A GIFT LIKE OTHER GIFTS we might receive—open them, appreciate and use them,
wear them out or discard them.
The Spirit is received in baptism and the Spirit's presence is strengthened in confirmation so that we might carry on Jesus' saving mission. The more we respond to the Spirit's indwelling, the more we are immersed in God's very love. The choice to love becomes more clear, more focused. The Spirit brings us to a single-mindedness about our love and about our choice to take up Jesus' saving mission.

SOMETIMES IN OUR LIVES WE MIGHT WITNESS to a powerful presence of the Spirit. Perhaps we must confront another who has done wrong and refuses to change, stand up to injustice, or challenge another to more ethical and generous living. Sometimes in our lives we might witness to a gentler, relational Spirit. Perhaps we spend extra quality time with the children, or visit elderly relatives and bring them some cheer, or help someone pick up the pile of oranges which has come tumbling down in the grocery. In these great and simple acts the Spirit works through us and moves us from "if" to "I can,
I choose, I will."

---

Come, Holy Spirit! Come, Father, and Mother of the poor! Come, our Sweet Refreshment, our Solace in the midst of woe, our Light in darkness. Healer of our wounds, Dew upon our dryness, Warmth for our cold hearts. Bring the orphans home that all our gifts of life form one family within the Church. Amen.

SACRED SPACE REFLECTION

Something to think and pray about this week...

TODAY'S FEAST OF PENTECOST rounds off the tremendous mysteries that we have been commemorating since Holy Week – the Passion, the Death, the Resurrection, and Ascension of Jesus. These culminate in the sending of the Spirit on the disciples. We are not merely dealing here with separate historical incidents but with one reality – the extraordinary intervention of God into our lives by what we can only call the “mystery” of Christ Jesus. Today’s feast indicates that it is an ongoing reality, which touches our lives every single day.

The Spirit is the way of true freedom not a way of compulsion, addiction, greed or fear. It involves a close, warm, confident relationship with God who can be confidently addressed as “abba” (Father). Filled with the Spirit, we are in the fullest sense people of God, living images of our Creator.

We radiate the Spirit and by our word and example and invite others to share it. The gifts of the Spirit are not only for ourselves: the gifts given to us are to be shared. After the coming of the Holy Spirit the disciples did not stay in that room luxuriating in what they had been given. They burst out to tell the world how much God loves everyone and how God wants everyone to experience that love.

This week let us pray that we may be more aware of the quiet working of God’s Spirit in our lives.

The Road To Emmaus

*By Margie Guadagno
St. Elizabeth Seton Pastoral Associate*

Listening to One Another in the Spirit

When the disciples
met Jesus
on the road,
they were disappointed
and sad.
He walked with them
and listened to their story.
Then, by opening up
the Scriptures
He gave them hope!
He helped them see that they were not abandoned
or left orphaned,
that God
was with them
and would always be part of their journey.

I GREW UP IN THE 1950s. During those years I internalized a certain way that families were suppose to look. Therefore, when I thought of family, I thought of Mom, Dad and three kids because that's what my family—and most of my friend's families—looked like. Dad went to work and Mom stayed home and cooked, cleaned, washed and ironed clothes, and always...always...deferred to Dad on important issues. And, every issue was important!

As the 60s came round, things began to change in my house. All three of us kids were in school and my Mom wanted to get a part-time job. Well, let me tell you, the days of deference were definitely over! My Mom started working at Edward Minas Company in Hammond, Indiana. Shopping malls weren't even a blip on the radar yet. So, if you wanted to do real shopping, downtown Hammond was the place you wanted to be. But, I am getting ahead of myself.

My mother's path to her job was not easy. For my Dad, the distance between stay-at-home Mom and working Mom was impassable. I can still remember the arguments and angry words that passed between them for months. And then, the dreadful silence—for months. They could not come to an agreement. Each one had their own reasons for wanting what they wanted. And truth be told, they both had really good reasons. But, they just wouldn't listen to each other. They were so focused on getting their own points across that neither took the time to hear and evaluate what the other one said or how they felt. They were divided and just could not, and then would not, communicate with each other.

However, in the end, a compromise had to be reached because the most important thing for our family was to cooperate with each other for the good of the whole family.

IT IS HUMAN NATURE TO DEFEND one's own commitment to a point of view. It's those very beliefs that help us navigate the world around us and achieve our goals. But we cannot do that alone. We need to see, hear and communicate with the people around us. God did not make us to live alone in a fish bowl. That understanding of ourselves as communal creatures is made clear by the early scripture writers who put down the story of our creation that we read in Genesis. What is also made clear in scripture is that from the very beginning we were predisposed to misunderstanding, miscommunication and a misdirected sense that we each, as individuals, have the only correct opinion.

I think the story of the Tower of Babel says more about our ability to alienate ourselves from one another out of pride than it does about God wanting to serve us a piece of humble pie. It's not God's fault that we often choose to close our minds and hearts to the people around us.

IN FACT, GOD ONLY WANTS TO HELP US. That's why God sends the Holy Spirit to dwell within us. With her help we can learn to be understanding of another's viewpoint. That would naturally lead us to be wise and exercise good judgment. That's made clear in scripture, as well.

THE STORY OF PENTECOST SHOWS US what is possible when we are willing to listen and cooperate with others. It brings good to the whole world. That is our calling as disciples of Christ and members of the community of believers. Angry words or sitting in silence are just not an option for those of us who strive to do what is best for the whole family of God.

Keep

In his first letter to the Corinthians, Saint Paul preserves the words of Jesus at the Last Supper:

“This is my body that is for you. Do this in remembrance of me”(1 Corinthians 11:24). The action of doing and saying what Jesus said and did at the Last Supper is an act of remembrance that recalls and makes present his saving mysteries. This action also keeps or holds the mystery of his Death and Resurrection close to us.

When we keep the mystery in our worship and in our lives, we can draw its saving power into ourselves and into the circumstances that we daily meet. Even more, we keep the Eucharistic mystery not just to hold onto it for ourselves but to be ready to share it with others. When forces of death or sin seem overwhelming for us or for others, we draw from the mystery that we have kept from the celebration of the Eucharist.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

SAINT PASCHAL BAYLON 1540-1592

IN PASCHAL'S LIFETIME THE SPANISH EMPIRE IN THE NEW WORLD WAS AT THE

HEIGHT OF ITS POWER, though France and England were soon to reduce its influence. The 16th century has been called the Golden Age of the Church in Spain, for it gave birth to Ignatius of Loyola, Francis Xavier, Teresa of Avila, John of the Cross, Peter of Alcantara, Francis Solano and Salvator of Horta.

Paschal's Spanish parents were poor and pious. Between the ages of seven and 24 he worked as a shepherd and began a life of mortification. He was able to pray on the job and was especially attentive to the church bell which rang at the Elevation during Mass. Paschal had a very honest streak in him. He once offered to pay owners of crops for any damage his animals caused!

In 1564, Paschal joined the Friars Minor and gave himself wholeheartedly to a life of penance. Though he was urged to study for the priesthood, he chose to be a brother. At various times he served as porter, cook, gardener and official beggar.

Paschal was careful to observe the vow of poverty. He would never waste any food or anything given for the use of the friars. When he was porter and took care of the poor coming to the door, he developed a reputation for great generosity. The friars sometimes tried to moderate his liberality!

Paschal spent his spare moments praying before the Blessed Sacrament. In time many people sought his wise counsel. People flocked to his tomb immediately after his burial; miracles were reported promptly. Paschal was canonized in 1690 and was named patron of Eucharistic congresses and societies in 1897.

COMMENT:

Prayer before the Blessed Sacrament occupied much of St. Francis' energy. Most of his letters were to promote devotion to the Eucharist. Paschal shared that concern. An hour in prayer before our Lord in the Eucharist could teach all of us a great deal. Some holy and busy Catholics today find that their work is enriched by those minutes regularly spent in prayer and meditation.
