Saturday, February 9,
5:00 - 8:00 pm, Room 106

Whether it's a game of Catch Phrase or Sequence, you can find it being enjoyed by a table full of Empty Nesters at their annual game night. If you've been there before, or if you're new to Salem, we invite you to spend the evening with us. Bring your favorite board game, a soup, salad or dessert and a snack to be shared. Drinks and tableware are provided. Since this is the time of the year that many folks start to de-clutter, we ask you to bring along a white elephant to be used during the evening. A Night of Worship

Sunday, January 27, 6:30 p.m.

The Salem Worship Center will resonate with voices and instruments in singing favorite worship songs, hymns and choruses. In this first-of-its kind gathering, the Salem Worship Choir and praise teams will lead those present, accompanied by the Salem Praise Band.

"We are looking forward to an hour or so of coming together with no other agenda than to sing, praise and worship our Creator-Father God, his Son, Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit through the collective hearts, instruments and voices of the gathered people of our community," said David Boots, Salem's worship and arts pastor. "It is my hope that this might be the beginning of an ongoing gathering of its kind, growing to include the participation of more churches in our community."

The event is open to all, is free and not ticketed, and no offering will be taken. There will be no child care available. The dress is casual.
