

Requirements, Rules & Policies

Ecola is a community of Christians seeking to grow in conformity to the character of Jesus Christ. No community can exist without guidelines. The following are the minimum requirements for a student to remain enrolled in the School of Ministry program. It is assumed that those who desire to attend the school are in agreement with the aim and purpose of Ecola and desire to apply themselves to the study and application for which this institution exists. Students who attend are expected to maintain the high moral standards of the Scriptures

A. General

1. Students are required to complete a minimum of a full year of Bible schooling prior to application to the Ecola School of Ministry.
2. Medical coverage for students attending is strongly advised. Ecola has no medical treatment facilities and does not supply student medical insurance. Students will be required to sign a medical waiver form if they do not have medical insurance.
3. The use of illegal drugs, marijuana, alcohol, and tobacco is not allowed on or off campus. Those using these substances should not apply for admission. Those who are found using these substances will be required to leave the program.
4. Any applicant convicted of a felony will not be allowed to attend Ecola until at least one year from the end of their parole and/or probation.
5. All students accepted to the Ecola School of Ministry will be expected to model the life of a mature and growing Christian, especially among students enrolled in Ecola Bible School's first year program. Ministry program students will be asked to invest in the encouragement and discipleship of first year students.
2. Citywide courtesy hours begin at 10:00p.m. Students are expected to be quiet in consideration of those who wish to sleep or study

Music should be selected in harmony with Philippians 4:8 and the selections and volume should not be offensive to others. Headphones are encouraged.
5. Televisions, VCRs, DVD players, weight training equipment, weapons, microwaves, and other kitchen appliances are not allowed in Cannon Beach Conference Center dorms.
