Welcome to the 46th Annual Meeting of the Society for Pentecostal Studies. We are delighted that scholars from overseas and across the United States can gather together in St Louis to explore, enquire and encourage studies in and of Pentecostalism. The Society continues to provide a forum for healthy discussion and the opportunity for young and old scholars to share their ideas in a hospitable and critically robust environment.

The theme of “Pentecostalism and Culture” is vitally important for our current context. This theme urges us to understand the communities and culture in which we live, work, and research. Understanding one another hopefully facilitates the imperative from Scripture to love one another. It also requires humility and generosity. These characteristics have consistently been my experience of engagement with Society members, and I hope this year is no different. Understanding our culture and communities also provides an opportunity to serve them.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Program Chair, Dale Coulter, and Executive Director, Margaret de Alminana, for their excellent organization of the conference program. Of course, vital to the program is the work of the Interest Group Leaders—we are so appreciative of your contribution. Finally, I am also grateful for the entire Executive Committee of SPS that serves to fulfil the mission of the Society to be ’an organization of scholars dedicated to providing a forum of discussion for all academic disciplines as a spiritual service to the kingdom of God.’

MEETING OVERVIEW

The meeting will begin with a combined plenary session and worship service on Thursday evening at 7:00 and end with a banquet on Saturday night.

The opening plenary will feature Cheryl J. Sanders, Howard University School of Divinity, and the Friday evening keynote address will feature Charles Taylor, McGill University. Along with Plenary and Interest Group sessions, the conference includes a Thursday evening reception, working-lunch meetings, a Society business meeting, a women’s caucus breakfast, a student caucus luncheon, and a banquet. During the conference, attendees will have opportunities to socialize, become acquainted with other SPS participants, and share their scholarly interests and current work. Attendees will also enjoy discounted prices on a variety of books and other products exhibited by vendors and ministries.

SPS Membership

Attendees are encouraged to join SPS (see sps-usa.org, “membership”) before or during the meeting. Though membership is not necessary to register for the meeting, membership provides a registration discount. Presenters for SPS sessions (other than specially invited guests), however, are required to be members of SPS.
For all interested conference attendees and members, there will be a panel discussion on issues surrounding black lives and the black church at Greater Grace Church, 3690 Pershall Road, Ferguson. The meeting is being hosted by Bishop Larry O. Jones, founder and pastor of Greater Grace. Clifton Clarke will serve as the moderator for the panel discussion and the meeting.

Attendees will provide their own transportation to and from the meeting.
THEME: "PENTECOSTALISM AND CULTURE"

The 2017 SPS program concerns the relationship between Pentecostals and the broader culture/cultures they have inhabited. Under this broad theme, the conference will explore Pentecostal interactions with—and contributions to—culture, a Pentecostal understanding of culture, and the broader theological relationship between Christianity and the cultures it inhabits and the cultures it has created.

To explore these issues requires historical accounts of how Pentecostals have created their own cultures and thus the role of Pentecostalism as a “religion made to travel,” philosophical and theological accounts that deal with the questions surrounding secularization, and biblical and theological accounts that attempt to construct a Pentecostal view of culture and cultural creation.

While the plenary sessions and speakers will address these themes in their own way, Interest Groups will consider topics that intersect with these themes such as the role of women in Pentecostalism and the broader culture, the charge of anti-intellectualism and Pentecostal discourses about culture, etc.

PLENARY SESSIONS

The plenary sessions will commence on Thursday evening with a presentation by Professor Cheryl J. Sanders, Howard Divinity School. This will be followed by Professor Amos Yong of Fuller Theological Seminary on Friday morning and Dr. Néstor Medina from the University of Toronto on Friday afternoon. The Friday evening plenary session will be devoted to a conversation with Professor Charles Taylor of McGill University. The presidential address will be given by Dr. Jacqueline Grey, Associate Professor of Biblical Studies, Alphacrucis College, Sydney, Australia, on Saturday morning.

Thursday Evening Plenary Speaker:

“‘In the World, But Not of It’ Sanctified Religion and Social Ethics,” by Cheryl J. Sanders, Th.D., professor of Christian Ethics at the Howard University School of Divinity where she teaches courses in Christian ethics, pastoral ethics and African American spirituality. Her key areas of research and writing are African American religious studies, bioethics, pastoral leadership and womanist studies. Dr. Sanders has been Senior Pastor of the Third Street Church of God in Washington, D.C. since 1997.

She has ministered nationally and internationally for more than 30 years as a preacher for church services, camp meetings, conventions, conferences and revivals. In 2005, she was honored as one of the elders in the fall issue of “The African American Pulpit: Those Preaching Women.”

Dr. Sanders has lectured at colleges, universities and seminaries all over the United States, including the 2005 C. Eric Lincoln Lectureship at Clark Atlanta University and the Staley Distinguished Christian Scholar Lectureship. She has held visiting professorships at Harvard Divinity School and High Point University, and taught as an exchange professor at Wesley Theological Seminary and the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg. She is an author of more than 100 articles and several books, including “Ministry at the Margins" (1997); “Saints in Exile: The Holiness-Pentecostal Experience in African American Religion and Culture" (1996); and "Empowerment Ethics for a Liberated People" (1995).

Friday Morning Plenary Speaker:

“The Spirit Says Come: Kings, Nations, and Cultures on the Way to the New Jerusalem” by Amos Yong, Ph.D., Professor of Theology & Mission Director of the Center for Missional Research, School of Intercultural Studies, Fuller Theological Seminary, USA.

Amos Yong came to Fuller Seminary in July 2014 from Regent University School of Divinity, where he taught for nine years, serving most recently as J. Rodman Williams Professor of Theology and dean. Prior to that he was on the faculty at Bethel University in St. Paul, Bethany College of the Assemblies of God, and served as a pastor and worked in Social and Health Services in Vancouver, Washington.

Yong’s scholarship has been foundational in Pentecostal theology, interacting with both traditional theological traditions and contemporary contextual theologies—dealing with such themes as the theologies of Christian-Buddhist dialogue, of disability, of hospitality, and of the mission of God. He has authored or edited over 30 volumes. Among the most recent are The Future of Evangelical Theology: Soundings from the Asian American Diaspora (IVP Academic, 2014); Renewing Christian Theology: Systematics for a Global Christianity, with Jonathan A. Anderson (Baylor University Press, 2014); Interdisciplinary and Religio-Cultural Discourses on a Spirit-Filled World: Loosing the Spirits, coedited with Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen and Kirsteen Kim

Friday Afternoon Plenary Speaker.

“Faith, the Cultural and the Spirit: Toward a Pneumatology of the Cultural,” by Néstor Medina, married to Samia Saad, is a Guatemalan-Canadian member of various academic organizations. He completed his bachelor’s degree Cum Laude from BRE Tyndale University. He focuses on the areas of theology and culture, specifically interculturality. He has extensive experience working in various geographic and cultural contexts, and more recently, he has been teaching courses on Theology and Culture and Interculturality. In addition to publishing numerous articles on Latina/o theology, theology and culture, and Pentecostalism, he is also the author of Mestizaje: (Re)Mapping ‘Race,’ Culture, and Faith in Latina/o Catholicism (Orbis, 2009). Presently, he is working on a sequel to his first book, and another on a pneumatology of culture. Among his research interests, he explores the intersection of liberation theologies, theology and culture, popular religion, post-de-colonial debates, Pentecostalism among Latinas/os, and issues of interculturality.

Friday Evening Keynote Address:

“Our Secular Age: A Conversation with Charles Taylor” by Charles Taylor, DPhil, Professor Emeritus, McGill University, Canada. Charles Taylor was educated at McGill University, where he earned a BA in History. He then went as a Rhodes Scholar to Oxford, where he completed a BA, MA, and PhD in Philosophy. After teaching philosophy and political science at McGill, Taylor became Chichele professor of political and social theory at Oxford (1976); he returned to the political science department at McGill in 1982, where he eventually achieved the rank of Professor Emeritus.
Charles Taylor is an internationally celebrated public philosopher, having received the prestigious Kyoto Prize in the arts and philosophy category (June 2008) and the John W. Kluge Prize for Achievement in the Study of Humanity (2015), a prize he shared with philosopher Jürgen Habermas. In 2016, he was awarded a $1 million Berggruen Prize for being "a thinker whose ideas are of broad significance for shaping human self-understanding and the advancement of humanity."

Among his numerous publications, some of his best known works are Hegel (Cambridge, 1975), Sources of the Self (Harvard, 1989), Modern Social Imaginaries (Duke, 2004), A Secular Age (Harvard, 2007), and The Language Animal (Harvard, 2016).

Parallel Session Papers: Deadline and Format Specifications for Presenters

See “Guidelines for Presenters” PDF posted at SPS-USA.org. Presenters who provide their paper to their Interest Group Leader by the January 15, 2016 deadline, will have their papers included in the pre-conference online access by purchasers and, if the paper is in the correct format, will receive a $10 refund on their own conference registration. This refund will be provided to the presenter at the on-site conference registration.

Purchase SPS Papers

Interest Group papers are available for purchase. The purchase price of the papers is $35, which will include pre-conference online access and a CD of papers to be sent on June 1. The reason for sending a CD later is to provide a more complete collection of the papers presented. This does not guarantee that all papers will be available on CD. The papers received post-conference will also be added to the online access. The projected date of availability for pre-conference online access is February 20, 2017, at which time purchasers will be emailed the online link and a user name and password.

SPS Copyright Notice

All papers presented at the SPS annual meetings are copyrighted by their authors, and all rights are reserved to the authors. By submitting papers to the conference, authors grant the Society for Pentecostal Studies the right to reproduce the papers for the current annual meeting. Authors further grant the Society the right to produce electronic copies of the meeting papers and to sell or give such copies as the Society determines.

Annual meeting papers, whether at the SPS website or in other electronic form, are provided for private, non-commercial use, and all other reproduction—whether hard copy or electronic (audio, video or graphic recording of any means) and all other uses are expressly prohibited without the author's express written permission. Purchasing Web access, CD-ROM, or DVD-ROM versions of the sets of papers constitutes the user’s agreement to use them only in this manner.

TYPES OF PENTECOSTAL THEOLOGY
METHOD, SYSTEM, SPIRIT
By Christopher A. Stephenson

In the first critical study of the major theologians of pentecostalism, one of the fastest growing and most influential religious traditions in the world, Christopher A. Stephenson establishes four original categories to classify pentecostal theologians’ methodologies in systematic/constructive theology. The four categories are based respectively on: the arrangement of biblical texts; the relationship between theology and Christian spirituality; doctrine concerning the kingdom of God; and pneumatology as a basis for philosophical and fundamental theology. Stephenson analyzes each methodological type and suggests a pentecostal theological method that builds on the strengths of each. He then offers his own, original contribution, arguing for a reciprocal relationship between pentecostal spirituality and doctrine that follows the pattern of lex orandi, lex credendi, and develops a doctrine of the Lord’s supper as a demonstration of this reciprocal relationship.

Types of Pentecostal Theology provides critical insight into such fundamental issues as the relationship between theology and philosophy, the dynamic between scripture and tradition, and the similarities and differences between recent pentecostal theology and other currents in contemporary theology.

Praise for Types of Pentecostal Theology

"Stephenson is a careful reader and an excellent synthesizer of ideas. His skill in systematizing the ideas of the four Pentecostal theologians not only is admirable but also renders their works easily digestible even by lay church persons...Stephenson’s theological method is relevant, beautiful, and engaging."--The Journal of Religion

Christopher A. Stephenson is Assistant Professor of Systematic Theology at Lee University in Cleveland, TN.

Announcing the 2017 European Pentecostal Theological Association Conference 3rd to 6th July; in Malvern, UK

What on Earth has Pentecost to do with the Church?

Residential: single bedroom: £198
shared bedroom: £174

To reserve your place, please fill in the registration form available at http://www.eptaonline.com/2017conference, and send it as an email attachment to: conference.epta2017@gmail.com.

EPTA members and friends are invited to submit titles and abstracts of proposed papers to the Chair of EPTA, William Atkinson (william.atkinson@lst.ac.uk). Suitable papers given at the conference will be considered for publication in the well-established Journal of the European Pentecostal Theological Association (JEPTA). This carries peer-reviewed articles on topics of interest to Pentecostals and others. The focus is wider than Europe and articles may be theological, historical, sociological or concerned with current events. To join EPTA, visit http://www.eptaonline.com.

THE STAINED GLASS CURTAIN
Crossing the Evangelical-Catholic Divide to Find Our Common Heritage

“God is using Father Sala to help heal the divide...”

–Bill McCartney,
Founder of Promise Keepers

In THE STAINED GLASS CURTAIN, Father Dimitri Sala demonstrates that when it comes to the basic message of salvation, official Catholic teaching and the preaching of Evangelicals do not differ! Combining his own testimony, authoritative Catholic sources, and passages from the Bible, he boldly invites the reader to learn the truth, embrace this reality of our common heritage, and engage in Jesus’ desire “that they all be one” (Jn.17:21).

Published in hardcopy, e-book, and Spanish (La Cortina De Vitrales).

Father Dimitri is a Franciscan friar-priest involved full-time in Evangelical preaching and apostolic ministry, combined with a life of prayer. He will be presenting a paper in the Ecumenical Studies Interest Group.
