Saint Albert the Great

CATHOLIC COMMUNITY

ELEVENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

JESUS said to the crowds: "This is how it is with the kingdom of God; it is as if a man were to scatter seed on the land and would sleep and rise night and day and through it all the seed would sprout and grow, he knows not how. Of its own accord the land yields fruit, first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. And when the grain is ripe, he wields the sickle at once, for the harvest has come."

He said, "To what shall we compare the kingdom of God, or what parable can we use for it? It is like a mustard seed that, when it is sown in the ground, is the smallest of all the seeds on the earth. But once it is sown, it springs up and becomes the largest of plants and puts forth large branches, so that the birds of the sky can dwell in its shade."

We could use your help!

Our parish is blessed with many who volunteer to help in many ways but every now and then even our volunteers need a break. We are looking for someone who can fill in for Jill who keeps our liturgical linens (purificators, corporals, and towels) cleaned and so nicely ironed while she is away during the months of June, July and August.

If you are willing and able to help, please contact :

Nina Weaver at 775.379.9873

Please Welcome Our New Principal Mr. Bret Scoggin

Saint Albert the Great Catholic School is pleased to announce Mr. Bret Scoggin as our school principal.

A sixth generation Nevadan and a second generation educator and administrator, has taught high school mathematics and science and has served as a special projects administrator, most recently at The Academy for Career Education Charter School.

Bret, Silvia, and Ian have been parishioners of Saint Albert the Great for many years and have been active in many parish activities. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus Council 7322 and regularly serves as Sacristan, Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion, and Usher. He has been attending St. Albert's Church for the past seventeen years. He converted to Catholicism twelve years ago after realizing, after five years, that the people of the parish were not just friends but had become family. He firmly believes that "being a Catholic by choice was the best decision he ever made".

As the spiritual leader of the school Bret believes that faith is the basis for quality academics. As Principal of St. Albert's Catholic School, Bret feels that he is not just going to a job he loves, he is going home.

A CURRENT FLOWING AGAINST THE TIDE

Deacon Chuck Lanham

GEORGE SANTAYANA, Spanish-born philosopher, essayist, poet, and novelist once wrote "Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it." It is often restated in a slightly different construction as "Those who do not learn from history are doomed to repeat it." While it would seem to stretch its meaning beyond Santayana's original intent, I would argue it does not diminish the truth of either in the slightest.

What is perhaps most disturbing, within the context of our time, is that implicit within those words is the absolute necessity for a clear and unadulterated record of the past, of history. Whenever history is destroyed, distorted, rewritten to mollify sensitivities, or cleansed of realities that may offend no amount of learning will forestall the inevitable repetition of it. Which begs the question: which is worse, failing to learn from history or learning from a history that never was?

There is a current flowing through our national metaphysic that is seeking to alter the course of history and to erode the bedrock upon which we have for so long relied. Should we lose sight of the past, should we choose to "see indistinctly, as in a mirror" or to "know partially" then we surely will bear witness to the vicissitudes of historical repetition.

In an essay "Willing Slaves of the Welfare State", published in The Observer on July 20, 1958, C. S. Lewis wrote, "Progress means movement in a desired direction, and we do not all desire the same things for our species."

Using criminal justice theory to illustrate the steady progressive encroachment of government he wrote "On the humanitarian view all crime is pathological; it demands not retributive punishment but cure. This separates the criminal's treatment from the concepts of justice and desert; a 'just cure' is meaningless... Thus the criminal ceases to be a person, a subject of rights and duties, and becomes merely an object on which society can work... If society can mend, remake, and unmake men at its pleasure, it pleasure may, of course, be humane or homicidal. The difference is important. But, either way, rulers have become owners. Observe how the 'humane' attitude to crime could operate. If crimes are diseases, why should diseases be treated differently from crimes? And who but the experts can define disease? One school of psychology regards my religion as a neurosis. If this neurosis ever becomes inconvenient to Government, what is to prevent my being subjected to a compulsory 'cure'? It may be painful; treatments sometimes are. But it will be no use asking, 'What have I done to deserve this?' The Straightener will reply: 'But, my dear fellow, no one's blaming you. We no longer believe in retributive justice. We're healing you.'... As a result, classical political theory, with its Stoical, Christian, and juristic key-conceptions (natural law, the value of the individual, the rights of man), has died. The modern State exists not to protect our rights but to do us good or make us good – anyway, to do something to us or make us something."

Lewis' essay ought to be required reading; it most assuredly will make you think.

their destination

Update

We had a great first meeting on May 22nd with twenty ladies in attendance from all ages and years at St. Albert's (from brand new to the parish to here for over 30 years). We decided on the following mission:

We are Catholic women who help bring life to our faith and support each other and our community.

To come up with the mission, we discussed our answers to the following questions – What do you like to do for fun with friends? Why do you want to join this club? What do you think our purpose and activities should be?

It was inspiring to see the sharing of so many diverse ideas!

Our next meeting will be Tuesday, June 16th from 6:30-8:00 pm in the Rectory Gathering Room. On the agenda are a Faith Moment, Speed Networking and more planning (we still need to elect officers, decide on set meeting times, create a structure, better logo, etc.).

Please come join us!

If you have any questions or ideas to share please contact Karen McClenahan 775-843-9549 (call or text) or email Karen\_McClenahan@yahoo.com.
