“A shoot shall come out from the stock of Jesse, and a branch shall grow out of his roots.” Isaiah 11:1

THE JESSE TREE

A Jesse tree is a tree decorated with ornaments that tell about the history of the Jewish people and the heritage of Jesus. We sing “Oh little town of Bethlehem...The hopes and fears of all the years are met in thee tonight.” The Jesse Tree represents all of those hopes, fears and years when the people of Israel were waiting for the Messiah. So, the Jesse Tree is a lot like Advent. In Advent we prepare for the coming of Jesus, and the Jesse Tree tells us about many of the people and events of all of the Old Testament years that lead up to the birth of Jesus, the Messiah.

WHO IS JESSE?

Jesse is one of the ancestors of Jesus. Jesse was the son of Obed and the grandson of Ruth and of Boaz. We learn about Ruth, her mother-in-law Naomi, and Boaz in the Book of Ruth. Jesse lived in Bethlehem and was the father of the most famous King of Israel – King David.

When the people of Israel were in exile in the foreign land of Babylon, they were sad and felt that God had abandoned them. Isaiah listened to God and knew that that wasn't true. Isaiah wrote that a great King would come from the family of Jesse. The Jewish people believed that a mighty king would conquer their enemies and they would be a powerful nation once again. Christians have read this passage in Isaiah and understood it as a prophecy of Jesus coming to the world.

JESUS' FAMILY

Both the Gospels of Luke and Matthew give a lineage of Jesus, with some differences. According to Luke there are 75 generations between Adam and Jesus, so I shortened the list a bit. Find Jesse on this list. He is one of Jesus' ancestors.
