Bits & Pieces

Dear Friends,

I no longer remember whether the year was 1986 or 1987 but the Easter morning of one those years turned out to be quite beautiful and warm. As people were leaving the morning service that day I wondered out loud whether we might want to think about having a sunrise service the next year. I do remember quite clearly Cheryl Kinder stating something like, "Maybe you'll first want to wait a year or two to see what kind of weather we can have on Easter morning before trying that." Well, there's no question that after 28 Easters in Carson City I now have a very clear understanding of what she was trying to tell me. I now understand it well enough to fear what may likely happen between now and what I'll call "real" spring. You know, the day that you know you may now safely plant your tomatoes. Too many times I have seen the lilac outside our kitchen window get ready to bloom because of several weeks of warm weather, when, the next thing you know, the north wind suddenly shows up blowing at 25 or 30 mph and the temperatures bottom out at 19° or 20°. There go the blooms for that spring.

This remembrance was triggered by the Gospel reading we had for March 23. There, Jesus reminded the disciples of a saying, "Four months more, then comes the harvest." Jesus was pointing out that people remember patterns and make predictions, forecasts, based on those perceived patterns. In the passage cited above the general agricultural community would have been able to plan for a harvest so many months down the road because of the general state of the crop four months before. This is not the only reference of this sort we hear coming from Jesus. Others similar to this are sprinkled around the gospels.

Generally, these kind of sayings move us in the direction of recognizing that we can anticipate something will occur. The exact timing or the exact outcome may be somewhat vague but we believe from past experience that our trust is well founded. The rain will come, the days will warm, the harvest will be there.

Easter is meant to provide us the foundation

SUNDAY SCHOOL NEWS

The teachers, helpers, and I are getting ready for a busy spring this month. The children have had a really good foundation for Lent in the past and are ready to go into this season of reflection and prayer with a good background. There are many publications around about children and the good things they learn in Sunday School. Some of the reasons are: In Sunday School, your child will build positive friendships and they discover God's word with those friends. Sunday School is fun! Just stop by some Sunday when Mrs. Burgeson's class is putting on a skit and witness the fun we are all having watching the kids acting out the stories they have learned.

Please consider helping us this fall and joining our group. I will have some openings as some of the teachers will be retiring. You won't be sorry I guarantee it!

We will have our annual "Easter Egg Hunt" at the Easter breakfast in between the first and second service on Easter Sunday, April 20. The children should bring a basket ready to gather eggs hidden in the garden. There will be a couple special eggs that will bring a special prize. The approximate start time will be 9:30-9:45 am. No Sunday School will be in session on that day but please come and enjoy!

for trusting God's promise that we can confidently wait for his salvation to be worked out. We may not know many, or any, of the precise details, but it will happen. Remember that Jesus had begun advising the disciples well in advance of what must happen. But they, even listening to Jesus, did not understand or grasp what he meant. From their behavior I can confidently say that all had doubts, all experienced fear, all mistrusted. Yet God was faithful. The followers of Jesus learned that they could confidently await the future not because they had always been faithful, but because God had been, is, and always will be faithful.

The blessings of Easter uphold and sustain you,

WELCA NEWS

WELCA is gearing up for our annual event, The Rummage Sale! It will be here before we know it so please mark your calendars for April 26 from 8 am to 2 pm. We start to take donations of any goodies you wish to donate after Sunday, April 20. (Easter) We will store them in Friendship Hall so please check to see if there will be someone at the church before you bring any items during the week. If you need to donate some large items that you are not able to bring yourself, please call us and we can arrange to have them picked up. We have some great guys who will assist us in doing this for our sale.

Our chairman this year, Clay Woslum is looking for volunteers in all capacities and asks that anyone interested sign up on the sheet on the WELCA board. Clay will hold a volunteer information meeting before Holy week. Please watch the bulletin and announcements for the date and time. He wants us to be sure everyone has the details of the set-up, the actual sale day, and clean up.

The Rummage Sale is always a fun and profitable event for WELCA and we look forward to having a great day! We hope to all of you there and thanks so much for your support!

President's Corner

Easter Greetings Everyone!

Time sure flies when you're having fun.

It's hard to believe that the first quarter of 2014 is already past and that Palm Sunday, Passover, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter Sunday are upon us. Which means --it's that time of the year again to ensure the safety of our young members by doing a general walk-around, pick-up and trash removal of the church property before the Easter Bunny arrives. If there are no conflicts with the date of Saturday, April 12, we will have a continental breakfast at 0800 am and then proceed outside to clean our church property. Gloves, rakes, shovels, pruning shears, and maybe a chain saw or two, will be needed for this event. We should be done by noon and then everyone can be on their way. No sign-ups are needed if you're willing to do a little work on the church property and ensure the safety of our young ones. Just show up and a good time should be had by all.

God Bless You All--Bill

Thank You!

On January 7, Darlene Lacugna fell at home and broke her shoulder in three places. After extensive surgery and many weeks of therapy, she is finally coming along as well as can be expected. Her therapy has progressed to the point that she was released on March 15, 2014. She is continuing therapy.

I want to thank all of you for the gifts, cards, visits and prayers--especially the prayers. Everything helped. Shoulders take a long time to heal.

Bell Choir News!

Chuck and I are still planning on resuming Bell Choir in September. God willing and the creek don't rise. We both miss the Bell Choir. Chuck has also had medical issues since January but has recently been released by the doctor. Now he can continue to help me with the Bell Choir set-up and operation.

We ring to the glory of God!
