

Exploring The Old Testament Prophets

Each Sunday thru August 19 a variety of teachers will lead our weekly STUDY OF DIFFERENT PROPHETIC BOOK OF THE OLD TESTAMENT.

The prophets are sometimes misunderstood and, in church life, often neglected. That is nothing new for the prophets, as it was neglect that they themselves typically challenged in their hearers, rather than offering them 'some new thing.'

The prophets had words from God that were urgent for the people then and there, but likewise benefit generations well beyond their own time right down to us who still read them and are challenged by them.

Recurring themes of the prophet's theology with continuing relevance include opposition to the worship of gods other than Yahweh; and a demand for justice and righteousness in the community that claim to be the chosen people.

The prophets have important things to say to us today.

Join our teachers as they share their talents in making the prophets heard clearly again.
